BEGIN STEPS OF PROSECUTION

COOLIDGE AND COUNSEL MEET IN CONFERENCE

Special Prosecutor Begins Collection Of Evidence In Oil Scandal--Senate Debates Resolution.

(Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 30.—The government's first affirmative action toward prosecution of the naval oil cases was taken today while the senate still was debating the Walsh annulment resolution. President Coolidge conferred at length with Silas H. Strawn, who with Thomas V. Gregory, will act as a special government counsel, and immediately afterward Mr. Strawn began the collection of evidence.

Just before the senate renewed its floor discussion, the oil investigating committee heard four physicians testify that the present condition of former Secretary Fall would not warrant his appearance at a public hearing. The committee then decided to send a fedical commission of its own to examine him.

E. L. Doheny reappeared at the committee room during the morning and requested that the committee hear him, but adjournment was taken until Friday without his being placed on the stand .

Besides the Walsh annulment resolution, passage of which is expected today, the senate has on its waiting list resolutions asking for removal of Secretary Denby and Attorney General Daugherty; one proposing to reassert title to oil land in California, held by Standard Oil, and one appropriating $100,000 for the court prosecutions amended today in committee to provide that the special counsel employed must be confirmed by the senate.

Mr. Strawn of Chicago conferred with the president at length. Organization matters will await the arrival of Thomas W. Gregory, attorney general in the Wilson cabinet, who will conduct the prosecutions jointly with Mr. Strawn.

Directions Simple.

The only directions received from the president, Mr. Strawn said, were to proceed in accordance with the executive's statement of last Saturday midnight. This statement declared counsel would be instructed "to prosecute these cases in the courts so that if there is any guilt it will be punished; if there is any civil liability it will be enforced; if there is any fraud, it will be revealed and if there are any contracts which are illegal, they will be cancelled."

Mr. Strawn also made appointments to confer today with members of the senate investigating committee and to secure from the department all evidence that it has collected since it was instructed by the president to observe the course of the inquiry.

A resolution by Representative Fairchild, republican, New York, pending in the house, proposes cancellation of the leases without court action, differing in that respect from the Walsh resolution before the senate which requests the president to institute proceedings in the courts to annul the leases and prosecute any persons found guilty of wrongdoing in connection with the transactions.

Gregory to Arrive Soon.

Mr. Strawn who describes himself as "interested" but never active in politics, and Mr. Gregory, attorney general for four and a half years during the Wilson administration, are not expected to begin their work together until the latter part of the week, when the latter is due to arrive from Texas.

Senate discussion of the Walsh resolution, heavily burdened with political debate centering chiefly around President Coolidge, Secretary Denby and Attorney General Daugherty, already had proceeded thirteen hours when it was resumed today, but a vote was in prospect before adjournment with adoption of the measure generally regarded as a foregone conclusion.

SINCLAIR MAKES TRIP TO LONDON

PARIS, Jan. 30.—Harry E. Sinclair, millionaire oil producer, whose name is involved in the Teapot Dome oil lease scandal at Washington, has gone to London for several days on business, his secretary announced this afternoon.

Sinclair sent a cablegram to Senator Lenroot at Washington yesterday stating he would return to the United States "as soon as he could expedite his business affairs," to reveal all his knowledge of Teapot Dome oil leasing

Amateur Sword Swallower Now "Resting Easily"

CHICAGO, Jan. 30. — Jacob Sienko was in a serious condition in a hospital here today because he believed he could be a sword swallower. He got the idea from seeing a vaudeville performer swallow swords without apparent evil effect. He bought ten butcher knives and essayed to swallow them, one by one. One was enough. It stuck.

"I'll bet there's a trick to it," Sienko wrote on a pad of paper for one of the hospital nurses today.

Woman Insists Wed More Than A Century Ago

Mrs. Callie J. Schaal whose divorce case against William D. Schaal was tried before District Judge Fred Shepherd Tuesday, stated on the witness stand that she was married to her first husband, R. C. Green, March 27, 1819, more than a hundred years ago.

"Are you sure of the year?" her attorney asked.

"Yes,' she replied firmly.

"But that's more than a hundred years ago,' the attorney protested.

"Well, you see, my oldest son is about thirty years old," Mrs. Schaal explained.

Mrs. Schaal testified that she had been married four times and had been divorced from two husbands. Another, she said, committed suicide while a divorce action was pending.

She frankly admitted having come from Virginia to Nebraska to obtain her first divorce because "it was so much more serious back there."

WILD SCENE AT STOCK MARKET

Thousands Of Buying Orders Poured Onto Floor Of New York Exchange Following Extra Dividend Of Steel Corporation.

(Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Jan. 30.—One of the wildest stock market sessions in recent years took place this mornnig when thousands of buying orders poured onto the floor of the exchanges as a result of the declaration of an extra dividend of 50 cents on the common stock of the United States Steel corporation, initial gains of active issues ranging from 1 to 6 points.

The first sale of United States Steel common, was 7,000 shares at 106 or 2 3-4 above yesterday's close.

Wall street was taken completely by surprise by the size of the extra dividend and the substantial increase in the earnings of the steel corporation for the last quarter of 1923. Professional bear traders, who had been selling stocks freely on the expectation of purchasing them substantially lower in the expected February reaction, hastened to cover their commitments.

Appeals Committee—John D. Taylor, chairman; Miss Irene Iveson; T. M. Waxman.

Discount Committee—Cobe S. Venner, chairman; J. M. Paul; T. R. Samuelson.

De Bouchel Suit Opens In South

ATLANTA, Jan. 30—With veniremen present and preparations completed to accommodate as large a crowd as possible in the courtroom, trial of the suit of Mrs. Onezima De Bouchel of New Orleans, against Asa G. Candler, Sr., Atlanta soft drink magante, was expected to get underway promptly with the opening of United States district court here today. Mrs. De Bouchtel is suing Mr. Candler for $500,000 for alleged breach of promise.

SETS NEW RECORD.

PARIS, Jan. 30.—The helicopterist, the Marquis Pescara, succeeded yesterday in breaking his own record for a substained flight. He kept in the air 10 minutes, 33 3-5 seconds, covering 1,000 yards. About two weeks ago he succeeded in staying aloft eight minutes 13 seconds.

WILL LEVY ON BANK PROPERTY

County Treasurers Making Out Distress Warrants To Be Placed In Hands of Sheriffs For Collection.

BANKERS REFUSING TO PAY FULL TAXES

Claiming Exemption Of Three-fourths Under the Intangible Tax Law But Officials Do Not Agree.

Bright and early on Friday morning, February 1, sheriffs in a number of Nebraska counties will begin serving distress warrants on state and national banks for non-payment of their 1923 taxes. These taxes have been delinquent since December 1, and two months' interest at the rate of 10 per cent will be added in each case.

The treasurer of a county in southern Nebraska, who was in Lincoln a day or two ago, told State Tax Commissioner Smith that he had already made out distress warrants against the banks and placed them in the hands of the sheriff for collection. They are dated as of February 1, that being the first date on which such warrants can legally be served.

Information was received by this county treasurer that the state bankers' association had sent out instructions to each individual bank not to pay its taxes, but to wait for the issuance of distress warrants and then pay them under protest. It is supposed this is intended to put the banks in position to collect back three-fourths of the taxes in case the courts should afterward hold that they were entitled to the exemption allowed by the intangible tax law.

Up to the present time, no suit has been commenced on behalf of the banks to prevent collection of the full taxes for 1923. Such a suit is contemplated, however.

Some banks are reported to have been in favor of dropping the litigation and paying the taxes without further contest, but a committee of the state association has employed legal counsel and is preparing to continue the fight.

Treasurer Sutherland of Lancaster county said that most of the 39 banks in Lancaster county have made tenders to pay one-fourth of the taxes levied against them for 1923, but that every offer of the kind was refused, according to the advice of State Tax Commissioner Smith.

Mr. Sutherland declined to say how soon the process of collecting under distress wararnts will be started in this county.

Brady Is Taken Back To Finish Term On Coast

William Brady, who was serving a term in the Nebraska penitentiary on a charge of auto theft, committed after he had broken his parole from San Quentin prison, in California, was released Tuesday afternoon by parole officers to J. J. Hanrahan, of the California prison. Brady will be taken back to finish his sentence there.

Another parole violator from the Missouri penitentiary at Jefferson City and two escaped convicts who were rearrested at Kansas City, are to be returned to California with Brady. Three officers from that state will have charge of them on the trip.

Governor M'Cray Is Now Bankrupt

FRANKFORT, Ind., Jan. 30—Governor Warren T. McCray is adjudged a bankrupt in the report of Harry C. Sheridan, federal master in chancery, who recently conducted a hearing of the petition of three Fort Wayne banks. The report was made public here today. In the report, Mr. Sheridan held that McCray is not a farmer nor a laborer and therefore, not exempt from the federal laws governing involuntary bankruptcy proceedings.

Identify Six Of Stolen Automobiles Recently Recovered

Six of the fourteen stolen automobiles which have been recovered by the state officers with the past week in their investigation in Boyd and Holt counties have been identified.

A list of the cars and owners follows: Ford touring, J. J. King, Tabor, S. D.; Ford touring, L. A. Ferrier, Jefferson, S. D.; Ford coupe, Sioux City Seed company; Ford coupe, now owned by Home Insurance company of Sioux Falls, S. D.; Ford coupe, T. T. Wilcox, Winner, S. D.; Ford touring, C. L. Elliot, Nashville, Tenn.

Anton Sedlacek, a harness dealer of Spencer, Neb., was bound over to the district court under a $1,000 bnod on charges of handling stolen cars, according to the state officers working in Boyd county.

NORMAND DAVIS ILL.

GENEVA, Jan. 30.—Normand Davis, of the United States, who was appointed head of the international commission that will adjust the differences of Lithuania and Poland over the future status of Memel, is ill wtih the grippe today. The attending physician said his condition was not serious.

COOLIDGE MEN CONVENE HERE

Selection of Candidates For Delegates to National Convention Made.

Perfect Organization in State to Push Presidential Preference Fight.

Selection of candidates to run on the Coolidge ticket for delegates and alternates at large to the republican national convention, and for district delegates and alternates in each of the six congressional divisions, was the principal business taken up by the state executive commiteee of the Nebraska Coolidge leageue at its first meeting, held Wednesday afternoon at the Lindell hotel.

From the state as a whole seven delegates and seven alternates will be chosen, while two of each will be elected in every congressional district. Among those who have been mentioned for delegates at large are B. B. Perry and ex-Congressman C. F. Reavis of Lincoln, ex-Congressman A. W. Jefferis of Omaha, L. D. Richards of Fremont, and N. P. McDonald of Kearney. In the First district, Mark W. Woods of Lincoln may be one of the candidates.

Chairman E. P. Brown of Arbor presided at the committee session. Campaign Director F. P. Corrick reported on the progress which has been made in forming a state wide organization, and those present from over the state brought information concerning the sentiment in their respective localities. It was declared that all indications point to a large majority for Coolidge over Hicam Johnson in the presidential preference primary.

The conference also gave some attention to the selection of county chairmen for the Coolidge organization.

'Tiniest' Baby Has A Chance to Live

FORT WORTH, Tex. Jan 30—A baby girl weighing scarcely three-quarters of a pound and believed to be the smallest living child in the world, is making a hard fight to live in a baby hospital here and it is believed she will win her battle. The baby is being kept in an incubator. Physicians declare the child's breathing is regular and that she has the color of a healthy, well developed babe.

SETTLEMENT WITH WIDOW OF DUDEK

Payment of the lump sum of $2,100 will be made to Mrs. Lila V. Dudek of York by the surety of the Crete Milling Co., in settlement of her compensation claim for the death of her husband, O. J. Dudek, a traveling man, who was drowned last September in Lincoln creek, between York and Benedict, while trying to get his automobile out of the stream during a flood. The insurance company had resisted payment of full claim of $6,250 on the ground that Dudek had been warned against going into the creek and was grossly negligent in doing so.

The settlement has been approved by Labor Commissioner Frye and also by the district court.

Compensation is denied to Mattie Bartholomew, employed as a waitress at the W. O. W. dining hall on the state fair grounds last September, who claimed her ankle was turned and badly injured while going down stairs to the basement. The commissioner found that the member had been in weak condition prior to her employment.

Frank T. Paulison of Lincoln is allowed $90, the equivalent of six weeks wages, together with hospital and medical expense, for hernia, sustained while handling crates of live chickens in the poultry house of Max Moser on South Ninth street.

Lincoln Fiftieth City In U. S. In Postal Business

"Lincoln is the fiftieth city in the United States in the amount of mail handled by its post office," E. G. Bivens, superintendent of mails at the Lincoln postoffice, told members of the Lincoln Pathfinder club at its weekly luncheon Wednesday noon at the chamber of commerce. Nebraska stands fourteenth among the states in the amount of newspaper mail, he said.

Mr. Bivens passed around samples of letters and packages which were wrapped and addressed improperly, saying that last year 20,000,000 such letters and 700,000 packages of parcel post found their way to the dead letter office. Money in the dead letters totaled $5,000,000.

The speaker urged his hearers to mail their postal matter early in the day and also to send out their heavy advertising during the middle of the month as the "first-of-the-month statements" pour into the postoffice to the amount of 75,000 to 100,000 from Lincoln firms alone.

Miss Ethel Robinson, accompanied by Miss Rachael E. Clem, sang a group of songs during the luncheon.

The Pathfinder club has purchased a $112 radio receiving set which is to be installed in the state school for the blind at Nebraska City for the benefit and enjoyment of the pupils there. The set was displayed at the meeting Wednesday.

NORRIS SCORES OIL CONTRACTS

Nebraska Solon Declares Investigation Shows "Utter Disregard Of Government Policy As Laid Down By Congress."

ASSERTS HE HAS NO PARTY TO 'EULOGIZE'

Says Executive Order Transferring Reserves From Navy Department to Interior Is "Utterly And Absolutely Illegal."

(Associatod Press.)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 30.—Both republican and democratic leaders in the senate pressed for a vote today on the Walsh oil lease annulment resolution.

Debate as renewed immediately after the senate convened, Senator Norris, republican, Nebraska, a former member of the oil committee, making an impressive exposition of his views. He declared he approached the subject "with a feeling of regret, sorrow and humiliation."

"I have no party to eulogize," said Senator Norris, "and no party to condemn. I have only an interest in the integrity of our common country."

The investigation into the leasing of oil reserves has shown clearly, he asserted, that from the beginning there has been utter disregard of the government policy as laid down by congress and of the law enacted to carry out that policy.

"The first order (the executive order transferring the reserves from the navy to the interior) upon which

POLICE GUARDS GIVEN EXPERTS

Reparations Conferees, Headed By Dawes, Arrive In Berlin — Reactionary Press Describes Members "Blood-Seeking Enemies."

(International News Service.)

BERLIN, Jan. 30.—Extra police guards were furnished by the government today to members of the first committee of international reparations experts, headed by General Charles G. Dawes, which arrived last night from Paris. For the most part, the committee was hailed as a harbinger of hope, but some reactionary newspapers, notably the Deutsche Zeitung attacked it.

For fear that fanatics might attack members of the committee, the government furnished police bodyguards to the members

General Dawes started work at once. He has already outlined a memorandum showing the facts which the committee wishes to ascertain.

Propaganda Campaign.

Simultaneously with the arrival of the committee men, the government launched a propaganda campaign to show that Germany cannot pay the February installment of the cost of military occupation.

Despite the clamor of the minority, the opinion is one of hope. Most of the newspapers gave a cordial welcome to the committee. Some of the papers told the Germans to "trust to the business ability of General Dawes, who is a young man—alert and full of energy."

The Duetsche Zeitung commented: "While we do not deny the individual right of the committee men to call themselves gentlemen, the committee as a whole is a bunch of blood-seeking enemies — hyenas — desecrating the corpse of Germany. They are disgusting to us. We welcome them as a bunch of hangmen."

RABIES FEARED FROM DOG BITE

Two Small Girls Attacked By Vicious Animal Not Responding to Treatment, According to Physicians.

As the result of having been attacked by a vicious dog recently near First and L streets, it is feared by city health authorities that two small girls are developing rabies.

According to C. E. McClain of the humane society, about a month ago he was called to kill a vicious dog at First and L. Recently report was made to him by a Lincoln physician, that a child attacked by the dog was not responding to treatment and inquiries were made as to whether the animal had shown indication of rabies. Wednesday the same inquiry was made by Doctor C. F. Chapman, who reported that he was caring for a patient attacked by the same dog.

Humane society officials ask that if children are bitten by dogs, the parents immediately inform the office if they consider the dog vicious or there is danger of rabies. If this is done the dog can be held ten days or more and definite information obtained as to whether it has rabies Physicians would then know better how to handle the case, he said.

BUSHEE IS URGED FOR LIEUTENANCY

Former State Senator Mentioned For Second Place On Republican Ticket.

Is Considering Matter And to Come to Decision In Short Time.

A number of republican business men in Lincoln are trying to interest B. K. Bushee of this city, formerly of Kimball, in the proposal that he become a candidate for lieutenant governor in the April primary. Mr. Bushee is giving the matter some consideration and will probably reach a decision one way or the other within a short time.

There is a pronounced feeling among republican leaders that the material now in sight for lieutenant governor is not of the kind which would insure a proper business administration of the state's affairs in case the governor should die or the office be otherwise vacated. The movement in Bushee's behalf is declared to be for the purpose of getting a representative man nominated for that office.

Mr. Bushee served half a dozen terms in the legislature from Kimball county, first in the house and then in the ssenate. He served as president pro tem of the senate in one session. His friends claim that he possesses unusual qualifications for the lieutenant governor's office and that if called upon to perform executive duties he would be equally well fitted for the higher office.

Woman Tells Of Island Tragedy

NEW BEDFORD, Mass., Jan. 30—A tragedy of no man's land, a little island ten miles off the coast, became known here today when Mrs. George W. J. Cook, wife of the caretaker on the island, was brought to the mainland on a fishing schooner and told of her husband's loss. He was carried out to sea in a small boat by a heavy wind when an oar broke. Mrs. Cook, left alone on the island, raised a flag as a signal of distress, and was rescued by fishermen.

"MODISTE" FINED ON LIQUOR CHARGE

Bobbed Haired Jean Jonelle Admits That He Handled Hooch.

Secret Service Operative Prepares to Bring Federal Charge.

Jean Jonelle, who police say posed as a "modiste" while operating as a bootlegger in a residential section of Lincoln, pleaded guilty in police court Wednesday morning to possession, sale and transportation of liquor and was fined a total of $300 and costs.

It was expected that federal agents would start prosecution on a charge of possession of counterfeit revenue stamps which officers say were found in Jonelle's home, 2230 B street, along with labels for designating the liquor as bonded whisky.

George Smith, secret service operative from the treasury department, who was investigating the case Tuesday and Wednesday, stated that a complaint would be filed.

Jonelle was arrested Monday afternoon after his escape clad only in a bathrobe from officers raiding the house early Monday morning. Seven men, taken in the raid, were released after questioning.

Jonelle has yellow bobbed hair and his business cards give his phone number, street address and the information that he is a "modiste."

Police say that letters in his possession indicate he may be in touch with men operating in other cities, including three Nebraska towns.

They believe his name to be an alias.

Congratulates Nebraska on Tax Reduction

Nebraska is congratulated on the progress made here in the direction of tax reduction by the state and its subdivisions, in a letter received by State Tax Commissioner William H. Smith from William Bosson of Indianapolis, president of the Indiana tax league.

"It is refreshing to receive a report showing that the state taxes have been decreasing since 1920 and are nearly 4 1-2 millions less than in 1921," the letter says. "Your addenda further show that the county, school and township taxes have decreased.

"I regret to say there is no such indication in this state and at present our prospects for reduced taxes are not very bright."

INQUIRY DELAYED.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 30.—Because of the illness of Senator Reed, democrat, Missouri, the senate committee investigating the Hok peace award held no session today.

LIEUT. GRIFFIS IS FREED FROM GERMAN PRISON

American, Who Attempted To Kidnap Grover Cleveland Bergdoll, Released --Will Return To U. S.

(Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 30.—Corliss H. Griffis, the American who attempted to kidnap Grover Cleveland Bergdoll in Germany, has been released from prison by the German government. The state department was so advised today.

It is understood that the Berlin government acted after it had been informed of sentiment in the United States.

Griffis will be returned at once to the United States The state department's cable from the Berlin embassy merely reported the facts of his release, adding that he would take the first available transportation from Germany to this country.

Chicago Man Advised.

CHICAGO, Jan. 30—Release of Lieutenant Corliss Hooven Griffis from a German prison by a pardon of the German government was expected today by the admirers of the American officer who was imprisoned for his attempt to kidnap Grover Cleveland Bergdoll, American slacker.

Belief that a pardon actually has been issued is held by Dr. James Whitney Hall of Chicago, head of a citizens' committee formed to urge the release of Griffis. Dr. Hall received a cablegram late yesterday, he disclosed today, from an official German source, stating that Griffis would be given his freedom today.

Dr. Hall's committee recently presented to the German ambassador a big petition bearing thousands of names, requesting that Griffis be released. Griffis when sentenced at Mossbach on December 5 to serve twenty-one months in prison, pleaded patriotic motives.

Police Motorcycle and an Auto Collide at Seventeenth and Q.

Officers G. Gannon and Ora Stearns, members of the shotgun squad, sustained minor injuries about 7 a. m, Wednesday when the motorcycle and sidecar in which they were riding, collided at Seventeenth and Q streets with an automobile driven by W. S. Boaz, 1921 T street.

Both of the officers were thrown from the motorcycle and the machines damaged.

Fred Hansen Waives Preliminary Hearing And Is Bound Over

Fred Hansen, charged with assault to do great bodily harm waived preliminary hearing in Justice W. A. Hawes' court Wednesday morning, and was bound over to the district court under $500 bond.

The charge was placed against Hansen after he had been named by Miss Ellen Clegg, 419 North Twenty-seventh street, as the intruder who entered her room and attempted to choke her. She fought the intruder for half an hour before he ran away. Her throat was badly bruised.

Hansen pleaded not guilty when arraigned.

Cummins Makes Congress Filing

H. B. Cummins of Seward, who was the democratic nominee for congress in the Fourth district two years ago, has sent his filing to Secretary of State Pool as a candidate for the same place in the democratic primary, April 8. His competitors will be C. P. Fall of Beatrice and Herman Diers of Gresham.

Frye Plans Negro Job Headquarters

On the suggestion of the United States labor department, State Labor Commissioner Frye, who is also state director for the federal government, is considering the feasibility of establishing a branch employment office in Omaha at the Colored Commercial club, 2322 North 24th street. This would not be exclusively for negroes, but would give men of their race a central bureau to help them find jobs. The organization is willing to cooperate, and Mr. Frye will look into the matter further when he visits Omaha on Friday.

Says Bryan Free To Cut Gas Price

"There is nothing to prevent Governor Bryan from going ahead with any measures he may have in mind to reduce the price of gasoline," said Attorney General Spillman when his attention was called to the governor's statement that he was waiting to hear what the committee of state legal department heads, of which Spillman is chairman, had up its sleeve.

"I am not seeking a controversy with Governor Bryan," Mr. Spillman added, "but he doesn't need to wait on anybody else. If he can relieve the situation he is at liberty to proceed."

LEARN CONDITION EX-SERVICE MEN

Red Cross to Begin Survey of Situation Before End Of Week.

Plan to Give Aid to Those Who Have Apparently Valid Claims.

Miss Edwina Meaney, secretary of the Lincoln and Lancaster county chapter of the Red Cross, said Wednesday that a survey of the conditions of ex-service men in the county would be well under way by the end of the week. The object of the survey, she said, was to learn how many men who had made application for compensation had been successful, how many are entitled to compensation; and how many feel they are entitled to benefits. A record of the physical condition of each man will be made.

The survey in Lincoln will be made through workers in the Red Cross office and by six members of the Junior league who have volunteered their services. It is thought the survey will be completed by June 1.

In the country districts the survey will be made by groups organized by the chapters in the several towns. The data will be compiled and efforts made to obtain compensation for men whose cases seem to justify it.

Laying Plans For Farm Conference

WASHINGTON, Jan. 30.—While members of congress, despite the oil farm relief measures today, administration officials went forward with their plans for the agricultural conference here Monday.

More than eighty representatives of interests affected by the agricultural situation have been invited by President Coolidge to attend the conference.

Mother Trudges A Thousand Miles To Be With Son

DETROIT, Jan. 30.—Mrs. Mary Hansen watches at the bedside of her son, Joseph, here today, after walking more than 1000 miles from Sioux Falls, S. D., to take care of him.

Three weeks ago Mrs. Hansen received word that her son was ill "somewhere in Detroit." She started out on foot to come to this city and with the aid of motorists along the way, arrived late yesterday. Mrs. Hansen's eldest son was a lieutenant in the world war and was killed in the Argonne forest. American Legion posts and auxiliaries for this reason, she said, helped her along the way.

This is the second trip Mrs. Hansen has made on foot for her son, Joseph. Some time ago she walked from Montana to Washington to appeal to the late President Harding in behalf of the young man when he was a prisoner in Leavenworth, Kas., federal prison.

Kronos the strongest man in the world, the superman who is amazing Orpheum audiences everywhere will headline the new bill opening at the Liberty Thursday. Kronos is an incomparable revelation of physical power, his bed a thousand nails, his cover a steel anvil, the pounding of sledge hammers cannot disturb his rest. He twists steel bars like twine and drives nails through oak with bare hands. Make arrangements now so you do not miss seeing this European wonderman.

Laugh and The World Laughs With You. All Lincoln Will Be Laughing if the Crowds Continue at The Rialto This Week.

You can hear nothing but praise about Constance Talmadge's latest comedy "Dulcy" which is the feature attraction at the Rialto this week. 'Dulcy" is the romance of a captivating dumb-bell who traveled on today's train with a tomorrow ticket and was as ivorydomed in all else that she did.

Mary Pickford Attracting Large Audiences at the Lyric This Week.

"The World's Sweetheart" plays a lullaby of love, an overture of passian, symphony of hate, a jazz tune of laughter and a song of romance in "Rosita," a most stirring melodrama filled with scenes of intense, gripping emotionalism. You will see Miss Pickford in a new role with her curls of gold coiffed on her head.

J. Warren Kerrigan in "The Man From Brodney's" Taxing The Capacity of the Colonial.

George Barr McCutcheon's famous novel "The Man From Brodney's" is a romance of the India seas, a drama of intrigue and mystery, of love and adventure that you are sure to enjoy. "The Champeen" a new comedy with "Our Gang" is one continuous round of laughter.

Cantilever Shoe

Correct Shoes for Correct Posture

THE high heel shoe is responsible for many foot troubles as well as bodily ills. Unnatural posture brings the body weight to bear upon the wrong muscles, thereby giving many women "that tired feeling."

The construction of the Cantilever Shoe enables the wearer to retain or regain normal posture. The straight inner sole line and the sensible heel guide the foot so as to receive proper distribution of the body weight. The flexible arch supports the foot naturally, permitting exercise of the arch muscles, free circulation and proper functioning of the bony arch structure. There is room for the toes without crowding.

Big Shortage In An Eastern Bank

HARRISBURG, Pa., Jan. 30.—Discovery of a shortage of $71,910 in the funds of the People's Bank of Mc Keesport, Pa., was announced by the state banking department today. Peter G. Cameron, state secretary of banking, said a warrant had been issued for the arrest of James M. Baker, an employe.

NO CHANGE PLANNED.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 30.—Comptroller of the Currency Dawes announced yesterday that the supreme court decision in the case of the First National bank of St. Louis versus the state of Missouri will cause no change in the rulings of the comptroller relating to branch banking.

The Love Game

A New Van de Water Serial

By Virginia Terhune Van de Water

Author of Nation-Wide Reputation and Writer of Popular Novels and Short Stories.

CHAPTER 1.

(Copyright, 1923, by Star Company.)

Commencement day exercises were over at Miss Hall's fashionable school in the Hudson river town.

Most of the girls were to depart by a late afternoon train, and there was the commotion of farewells on all sides.

Winifred Scott was not leaving until tomorrow. Her home was in New York City. She could go to it at any time. Mary Dallas, a Western girl, was to take a train to her distant home tomorrow morning and would spend tonight at Miss Hall's Winifred had asked permission to remain with her.

"Mary and I have been roommates or so long that it would be nice for us to have this last evening at school together," she explained to her father.

Harrison Scott nodded comprehendingly. "That's all right, my dear. You wrote me that you would probably do this I did not expect you to go home with me today."

The daughter was conscious of a slight pang of disappointment. Not that she wished to drive back to the city with her parent this afternoon, but she wished vaguely that he had wanted her to return with him. He was so much more casual than most of the fathers who had come to the school for the graduation exercises of their children. He had never been so since the death of his wife, four years ago.

"Of course, I shal be glad to have you back with me once more," he added. "I only hope you will not find it dull in town after all the young society you have had out here."

He sighed as he spoke, and the daughter regarded him more narrowly than she had done until this moment. He was unnaturally pale, she observed. Impulsively she turned to look for Donald Muir, the friend who had accompanied her father this afternoon. He was entering the room and came forward at this instant.

"Your car is ready, Mr. Scott," he announced. Then to Winifred: "I suggested your father's starting soon —instead of waiting until he gets overtired."

Harrison Scott turned away to make his adieu to the principal of the school, and Winifred spoke hastily to Muir:

"Father is not well, is he?" she demanded anxiously. "I did not notice until now how pale he is. What's the matter?"

The man she addressed smiled kindly.

"Don't look so worried, my dear," he advised. "Your father is a bit tired,—that is all, I hope. To be frank, his business affairs have not gone as well as usual, for the past few months, and he has been working too hard and taking too little recreation. I am sure he will be better when you are at home and he has other interests than those at the office. I am with him often in the evenings,—but he is lonely."

"And not well," the girl supplemented thoughtfully. "Has he seen a doctor?"

"Yes, and the doctor has asked him to take a vacation as soon as you are ready to take it with him."

"He has promised to?"

"Unfortunately, no, yet he has said that perhaps he will go away for a while."

The pair were by themselves for a moment,—teachers and guests having passed out on the broad veranda overlooking the river. The girl was slender and fair. Her companion, fifteen years her senior, was tall and dark, with hair slightly grizzled at the temples. They made a handsome picture as they stood at the foot of the mahogany staircase

Donald Muir spoke softly.

"Child," he pleaded again, "do not worry."

"I am not worrying,—exactly," she replied. "Only,—well, I may as well be frank. My coming home will not make father especially happy. And he would not care much to go off on a vacation with me. I—I—suppose I bore him,"—with a little catch in her voice.

Muir's face softened "You!" he exclaimed. "You bore anyone! Why, you could not if you would!"

She did not flush at the note of tenderness in his tone. "I do bore father," she insisted. "Just think how little he has had me at home for the past four years. Every summer he has sent me off to camp. In the Winter—I have been up here."

"I know," the man nodded comprehendingly. "I admit that he has become almost a recluse since your mother went. Her going changed him."

"He might think what it meant to me, too," the girl said, the tears springing to her eyes. "He has never tried to take her place with me. Instead, it was almost as if I had lost her and him, too. But," lifting her head defiantly, "I do not mean to whine. Only he and I might have good times together if he would be more—human."

"He is very human," Donald Muir insisted. "He has honored me with his friendship—and I know him very well. He does love you, Winifred. His chief desire is to get his affairs in such shape that you will be comfortable if he—if anything"—

He stopped abruptly as a young man entered from the porch and came toward them.

Another fine instalment on Thursday.

Fall Is Suffering Nervous Ailment

WASHINGTON, Jan. 30—Albert B. Fall, ex-secretary of interior, is suffering from "nervous exhaustion" and is in a precarious condition, his four physicians testified today before a secret hearing accorded them by the senate public lands committee.

If the committee wants to examine Fall, they said, it had better go to his bedside as there is no immediate prospect of Fall being able to go to the capitol.

$500 Damage Is Caused By Blaze

Five hundred dollars damage was done when the barn and chicken house of F. M. Igou, 515 East Twenty-fourth street, University Place, burned to the ground early Wednesday.

The blaze was of unknown origin, and when firemen arrived, the whole structure was burning. Tools in the barn worth $100 were lost, according to Mr. Igou.

RECOGNITION CERTAIN.

LONDON, Jan. 30—The Daily Herald says this morning that no hitch whatsoever has developed in the government's preparations to recognize soviet Russia, that the matter has already been decided and that reports to the contrary deliberately misrepresent the ministry's intention.

Yellow Cab

Ready to Serve

When you ride in a YELLOW CAB it is just as much your vehicle as though you owned it, lock, stock and barrel. The driver takes your orders alone and in every way treats you as his employer.

There is this one difference, however, and it is on the right side of the ledger: When you have finished with a YELLOW CAB you are under no further expense.

We have no quarrel with the privately owned automobile. If you can afford one you are fortunate, but frequently it cannot be used in the downtown section with despatch and economy.

Did you ever stop to think of the tremendous investment and the complex organization necessary to make YELLOW CAB available when you need it?

You are able to hail one any time of the day or night—or a telephone call will bring it in a few minutes—because there is a big financially responsible organization behind it.

Hail them anywhere

TAILORED DRESSES

CHEMISE style tailored dresses will play the lead in street, school and all-day-long performances which will open as spring approaches. Their graceful, slenderizing lines warrant their immediate success.

CHECKED VELOURS, CREPE CHECKS, HAIR-LINE STRIPE, STRIPE COVERT TWILLS, ETC.

Novel trimming effects are also noted. For the smart check dresses, bandings of plain material or perhaps contrasting collar and cuffs; for the bolder striped-dresses, a bit of self-color on the bias or a more subtle collar and cuff set; for the one-colored dresses, braidings, etc., make them distinctive. Tans, grays, browns, navy with hairline stripe are the most favored colors. Sizes 16 to 42.

Polly says today—

Something up her sleeve!

Fashion has something continually "up her sleeve." Her latest surprise concerns the smart gauntlet cuffs extending up the sleeves of the jainty dimity and voile blouses for Spring. Sometimes they're plain white, again they're piped in attractive colorings to match their deep v-collars. These blouses for suit and sweater wear are priced each 2.25.

Blouses—Second Floor.

Two by four!

Two by four, two to four inches and even larger are the color-checks and plaids in the Sport Coats this season. Some are quite bold in their effective contrast, others have decided plaids in self-color and of course there are the always-popular plain colors. Sports coats tend mostly to Shaggy materials in tan, brown, gray and blue with black and brickdust also being introduced in striking effects.

Coats—Second Floor.

Color Notes!

Notes concerning color are especially interesting this season of the year, for color is the dominant note of Spring itself. A visit to our ribbon department is bound to bring much color-inspection for hat, blouse and dress trimmings, etc. Ribbons of vari-colored stripes in Roman effects; novelty ribbon with contrasting diagonal border design; imported ribbon with a "tucked" effect, etc. Gold and silver ribbon in many widths promise much favor for trimming, for head-bands, etc.

Ribbons—Main Floor.

Real Feminity

Milady's dainty self—her real feminity—is expressed perhaps by her intimacies of dress more than in any other way. Intimate wear made from such lovely lingerie fabrics as we're displaying could not help but mark the wearer as discriminating and of good taste. Beautiful pastel shades in Satin Striped Check Batiste, Splash Shawod Stripe Voile, Lace Checked Voiles Lingette, etc., 38 inches wide. Prices 39c to 98c yard.

Lingerie Cloth—Third Floor.

Boon Companions

In the afternoon at Bridge, Mah Jongg, or Tea, you'll find them. Fashion and her Moire Bag. They're usually together for Fashion prefers this style bag for her silk and afternoon dresses. The pannier handle is smart. Its flat-top, pouch style gives quite ample space for her handkerchief, dorine, etc., without appearing bulky. The Moire Bags have fancy silk linings, coin purse. Prices from 6.00 upward.

ATTRACTIVE LUNCHEON FOR FEBRUARY BRIDE.

A beautifully arranged bridge luncheon for members of the family from out-of-town and intimate friends of the bride-to-be was given today in honor of Miss Ruth Towner by her aunt, Mrs. Henry Diers, and Mrs. Stanton Allen at the home of Mrs. Diers, 2035 South Twenty-fourth street. The out-of-town guests were Mrs. Herman Diers, Mrs. Anna Langner, Mrs. L. H. Diers, Mrs. R. A. Tishue, Mrs. M. A Davis, Miss Nelle Davis, Mrs. William Langworthy, Mrs. Clee Tishue of Seward; Mrs. Herman Diers, Miss Neta Reiken and Mrs. Will Diers of Gresham; Mrs. H. J. Tanngeman and Mrs. Kenneth Diers of Gretna, and Mrs. William Diers of Louisville.

Covers for twenty-seven were laid at small luncheon tables decorated in red mid-winter blossoms and lighted with red tapers in crystal sticks tied with bows of red tulle. The place cards and nut cups were suggestive of St. Valentine's day. Bridge was played following the luncheon.

FORMER UNIVERSITY WOMAN SUCCESSFUL IN HER WORK.

Lincoln friends and old university associates of Miss Edith Abbott will be interested in hearing of her success and the unusual recognition which has come to her in her work since her days here in the university as told in the following clipping from last Sunday's New York Times:

Miss Edith Abbott, newly appointed Dean of the Graduate School of Social Service Administration at the University of Chicago, is the author of a volume on "Immigration," soon to be published by the University of Chicago Press. Miss Abbott is a graduate of the University of Nebraska, and received her doctor's degree from the University of Chicago in 1905. She was awarded the European fellowship of the American association of University Women and studied at the University of London. After serving a year as instructor in political economy at Wellesley college, she became head of the Department of Social Investigation at the Chicago School of Civics and Philanthropy. Since 1920 she has been associate professor of social economy in the department which she now heads.

MRS. SPERE ENTERTAINS AT BRIDGE LUNCHEON.

An attractive bridge luncheon was given by Mrs. J. Arthur Spere on last Saturday at her home, 1130 South Sixteenth street. Covers were laid for twenty-two guests at five prettily appointed tables. Sweetpeas in the spring colors centered each table while suggestions of the valentine season were carried out in the other table decorations and in the ices and cakes. During the afternoon Miss Mary Donelson sang a group of songs and Master Paul Spere played a piano selection. In the bridge games Mrs. L. B. Lyman received the first prize for high score and Mrs. W. F. Denton was awarded the consolation.

Urges Realtors to Help Corn Producer

Speaking at the chamber of commerce Wednesday noon Mark Woods told the members of the Lincoln Real Estate board that some kind of an organization should be formed which would help the corn producer of Nebraska market his corn at a profit over the cost of production. Mr. Woods said the idea is feasible and is so considered by the U. S. department of agriculture. During the discussion which followed the address, Mr. Woods announced that Nebraska, Iowa and Illinois were the only states in the union which had a surplus of corn and for that reason had a monopoly of the corn business, and the grower should take advantage of the opportunity to control the price.

Many to Attend Camp Fire Rally

About 450 camp fire girls are expected to take part in the rally and reunion at the high school auditorium Friday night, Miss Lola Duncan, Lincoln camp fire executive announced Wednesday morning. The program will be made up of six stunts by the girls and camp fire councilors, and an address by Dr. J. Stanley Welch, president of the council. Elizabeth Wilcox and Margaret Hager will have charge. In addition to the regular program a silver loving cup will be awarded to each of the two girls who were tied for high point honors at Camp Kiwanis last summer. The cups will be presented by Mrs. F. R. Winter

No More Wrinkles!

New Discovery Smooths Them Away—Like Magic

SCIENCE has perfected a remarkable new treatment—which is guaranteed to remove every tired line and wrinkle, no matter how deep seated it may be!

Nothing like this new treatment has ever been known before. You just press a small quantity of a delightfully fragrant cream into the wrinkle, let it remain for a short while, then remove it. As if by magic each line and wrinkle is gently lifted away, revealing a charming new youthful complexion. Even after the first few days, the face appears years younger looking.

This new discovery is called Domino Wrinkle Cream. Women everywhere say it is the greatest beauty discovery in years. For it proves that there is no longer any excuse for beauty-spoiling wrinkles. Why let unsightly lines and wrinkles rob you of your attractiveness when they can now be so easily banished? Get Domino Wrinkle Cream today. Sold by all good drug and department stores.

CHARGE AGAINST THREE STUDENTS

Come to Grief When "Girl" Calls Hubby Instead Of Her Mother.

Frank Fisher, 18, Calixt Gamboni, 18, and Earnest Billings, 20, all students, pleaded not guilty in police court Wednesday morning to charges of disturbing the peace, and their cases continued until Thursday morning.

Police allege that the boys were attempting to induce a girl to go riding with them. The 'girl' asked them to wait while she asked her mother. She happened to be the wife of a member of the night police force, and instead of asking her mother, telephoned her husband. They waited.

Her husband came. The boys spent the night in jail.

Churchman Talks On Labor Problem Past and Present

Prof. A. W. Taylor of Indianapolis, representative of the federal council of churches, addressed the meeting of the World Forum held at the Grand hotel Wednesday noon. His subject dealt with the labor problems of this country, and the world.

"The fundamental basis of the labor movement is the attempt to eliminate the classing of labor as a commodity and the gaining of equal rights," he declared. He traced the stages through which the common people have passed since the years of serfdom to the present day, and explained how even today the voting privilege in some countries is governed by the property owned.

"One of the strongest reasons why Russian bolshevism has kept its old on the people is the fact that it gave them outright the land which they farmed and privileges which they had never before enjoyed. Human right is first and property right is second."

He discussed the minimum wage law and its value to labor, and told of the ruling of the court in Australia which said if an industry cannot exist and pay a living wage it should not exist."

Wade Wilson Files For Legislature

Wade A. Wilson of College View filed Wednesday afternoon as a democratic candidate in the coming primaries for state representative from the thirty-second district. Mr. Wilson is a graduate of the law college of the University of Nebraska and has been a resident here since 1908. He was a candidate for county attorney two years ago.

Board Approves Memorial Plan

At a special meeting of the board of directors of the chamber of commerce held Wednesday noon plans submitted by the city planning subdivision for the erection of a memorial south of the main entrance to Antelope park on O street were approved. The proposal was backed by members of the local camp of the United Spanish War veterans. The board also endorsed the proposal of the sub-division to submit the project to a number of sculptors in the state for competitive drawings for a design for the memorial.

What We Forget Between 15 and 50

Schools teach, and nearly every home applies the rule against coffee and tea for children.

When middle age comes, a great many people remember the facts about the caffeine drug of coffee and tea, and how its regular use may disturb health. Often they have cause to remember what it has done to them.

How much better it would be not to forget—and avoid the penalties!

Postum is a pure cereal beverage—delightful, and safe for any age—at any time. Good for breakfast at home, for all the family; good for lunch at the club or restaurant; good with the evening meal; good with a late night dinner—good on any occasion. Postum satisfies, and it never harms.

Why not be friendly with health, all the time?

Postum for Health

"There's a Reason"

Your grocer sells Postum in two forms: Instant Postum [in tins] prepared instantly in the cup by the addition of boiling water. Postum Cereal [in packages] for those who prefer the flavor brought out by boiling fully 20 minutes. The cost of either form is about one-half cent a cup.

THE UNREPENTANT MR. DENBY

"I am so convinced I did the right thing that I would do it again tomorrow, regardless of the consequences. I feel that I carried out the will of congress and my activities served the best interests of the people."

Thus defiantly declares Secretary Denby of the navy in reply to the criticisms of his collusion with former Secretary Fall of the interior department in handing over to private interests the Teapot Dome tract and other lands which had been set aside for naval oil reserves.

For good measure, Mr. Denby declared that he would not resign his cabinet position even if the senate should pass a resolution demanding that he do so. He also asserted his belief that the leases executed to the Sinclair and Doheny interests were entirely legal.

These statements are made at the very time when the whole country has been shocked at the revelations tending to show that the transactions were rotten to the core, and when President Coolidge, under the spur of the congressional investigation, is taking steps to institute suit for the annulment of the leases because they were corruptly procured and illegally executed without the approval of congress.

Mr. Denby's attitude forecloses any discussion as to whether or not he should remain as one of the president's advisers and administrative agents. Any man who will stand up in defense of the Teapot Dome and California naval reserve transfers, in the light of the disclosures brought out during the past two weeks, is not a suitable man to hold the high office he does. Congress will be wholly justified in calling for his resignation, and if it is not forthcoming President Coolidge will have to bear the odium for not getting rid of him.

Had Secretary Denby frankly admitted that he was deceived in regard to the government oil lands and made an honest mistake in signing the order which transferred them from the navy to the interior department, the country would have been somewhat charitably disposed toward him. An error of judgment could be forgiven, even though it would have been serious enough in this instance.

But when the head of the navy department brazenly says that he would do it all over again, just as he did it before, and insists that not only his own action but the subsequent granting of the leases by Fall were wholly lawful, proper and in the public interest, his continuance in the cabinet becomes altogether offensive to the American people. His moral sense is apparently as blunted as his judgment.

It was brought out in the senate discussion Tuesday that Mr. Denby was a member of the special commission appointed to investigate the acts of former Secretary Ballinger, during the Taft administration. The commission, it will be recalled, whitewashed Ballinger in the scandal relating to coal lands in Alaska and other parts of the national domain which were turned over to the Guggenheims.

Grover Cleveland's terse declaration that "public office is a public trust" still applies. And when men holding high governmental positions not only allow the public to be plundered, as was done in the Teapot Dome and California oil lands cases, but defend the deals after they have been shown up in all their nauseating putridness, it is time for such men to step down and out.

A LESSON IN TOLERANCE.

A jury in the supreme court of New York has found William H. Anderson, superintendent of the Anti-Saloon league of that state, guilty of third degree forgery. The specific offense on which Mr. Anderson was convicted arose in connection with "splitting commissions" with a former league fund solicitor.

The public has been greatly interested in the case, not primarily because of Anderson's connection with the Anti-Saloon league, but more particularly because of the nature of the fight which he waged. For years he has been the most militant and abusive of his type. Anderson has been designating all who opposed him in action, or differed with him in thought, as "crooks" and "scoundrels." In assailing individuals, of distinguished standing in the community, and organizations, notably the newspapers of New York City which had no connection with the liquor interests, Anderson overstepped the bounds of public decency. They suffered in silence, and to their credit, gave his statements and his case full publicity.

Without warning the spotlight was suddenly thrown upon Anderson's conduct of the league affairs. He explained that in some instances it was necessary to handle the affairs of the organization secretly. There may have been some foundation for his position, but after all, work of the nature which Anderson was carrying on, which could not command public confidence, could hardly be called constructive or helpful.

The outcome in the Anderson case should serve as a lesson in tolerance. Too often in recent years, men who occupy prominent positions in the community have been calling others crooks because they so much as dared to differ with them in opinion. Too often public servants have been in the habit of voicing vile accusations solely over a difference in opinion. Long before a jury heard the case of William H. Anderson, his usefulness to the Anti-Saloon league had ended because of his intolerance of the honest opinion of others, who happened to differ with him.

A PROFITABLE INDUSTRY.

A Nebraska institution began business in 1917 with a capital stock of less than $10,000. Last year its net profit was $25,500. For the first two years the organization was operated at a loss, which not only absorbed the original capital, but about $2,000 additional. During the last five years, however, the net profit has amounted to $125,560, in addition to the making up of the loss of the first two years. The enterprise making this remarkable record was the Equity Co-operative Creamery of Orleans, Harlan county.

Nebraska men interested in dairy development, who have visited Wisconsin and Minnesota, have without exception declared that nothing has contributed to the success of the industry in those states to such an extent as the localizing of manufacturing. The product is converted into butter and cheese very close to the source of supply, thus reducing carriage charges and leaving the manufacturer's profit in the hands of the milk producer. This statement is confirmed by dairymen from the localities mentioned, who have visited Nebraska.

Wisconsin and Minnesota are dotted with creameries and cheese factories, these being to a great extent co-operative concerns, furnishing employment to large numbers of operatives and keeping almost the entire income from the herds close to the farms where the milking is done. Waste is entirely eliminated. Nebraska is not adapted to the operation of cheese factories, it is claimed, but creameries are entirely feasible.

Some captious ones, commenting on the plan to stock Nebraska farms with pure bred dairy cows, have intimated that there might come a time when there will be an overproduction of milk and butter, but a study of the record and of conditions prove such fear to be entirely groundless. The per capita consumption of no food product has so increased within recent years as that of the dairy, and with the population constantly growing larger, there is certain to be an enlarging market for such food. This is especially true in view of the fact that the proportion of city dwellers is all the time becoming greater.

The pure bred dairy cow movement should receive every encouragement, but along with it should go one for the organization and operation of local creameries, which will enable the dairyman to reap the full benefit of his industry.

A NEW MALADY.

It is a great pity that illness should undermine Ex-Secretary Fall's vitality right at this time. Just now he needs all his strength to explain certain little "loans."

These "loans" were made to Fall a few months before he leased the naval oil reserves in Wyoming and California.

It would be unjust, perhaps, to believe that these "loans" and subsequent leasing of the valuable naval reserves had the relation of cause and effect. Nevertheless, it seems "passing strange" that the leases should be made to the men who made the loans.

Investigating committees of one kind or another are the cause of a great deal of acute suffering. The malady, while having no definite symptoms, is known as "probe-itis," and is seldom caused by microbes. As soon as an investigation begins the men investigated immediately become ill, and, are confined to their beds, and a naive public looks on in sympathy.

Director Forbes caught a very severe attack when the senate committee rummaging around in the veterans' bureau found a lot of dirty linen. He seems to have recovered somewhat since.

Almost automatically, Fall became afflicted with the dread disease when the Teapot Dome investigation began to be unconventionally throrough.

"Probe-itis" always fastens upon the investigated, whereas the investigators are remarkably immune. Even more than that—like the Tahitian aborigines who believed the strength of a dead enemy passed into their own bodies, the investigators seem to grow in power and endurance as their victims become wan and haggard.

If Mr. Fall is really ill, and his physicians report he is a very sick man, the public very naturally will regret a situation has arisen demanding his presence. Unfortunately events have progressed so that it is hardly possible the senate and the American people will be willing to await his recovery.

AN EDUCATIONAL EXPERIMENT.

An educational experiment which is attracting widespread attention has been worked out in the Laurel, Neb., schools, under the direction of Superintendent H. H. Linn.

Sensing public hostility to education because of the fact that many of the graduates of the schools were leaving without a definite idea of the nature of the work which they desire to take up; that many times they had gained wrong views of labor and that so much of an impractical nature had been introduced in the curriculum, Superintendent Linn decided to inaugurate a change in study. He decided to place three boys from the senior class in the Laurel high school in the banks of that city, each boy to work half of each school day for which he received no pay, but was given credit for high school work. The other half day was spent in school on the regular subjects.

The plan worked so successfully that it was extended to other lines. One senior boy was apprenticed to a carpenter for a half day and another entered the lighting plant, to study the practical problems of electrical engineering. A girl was sent to the telephone company to work a half day in the office.

Without exception, all six of the pupils have been doing splendid work. All of them were graded for their promptness, for their efficiency, courtesy and general attitude.

Vocational training has been gradually gaining ground in the educational system. The Laurel experiment is the first, however, in which students have been definitely assigned to specified work for a fixed period. The results that have been attained there will justify close attention by all the educational interests of the state.

More Truth Than Poetry

If you are one of those who lag in ruts
From which the daring only clamber out,
Have not too many puny "ifs" and "buts",
Assailed your heart and filled your mind with doubt?
Perhaps you have not sought a chance outside
For fear that you might find the going rough;
It may be that you've never struck your stride—
Step out, old kid, and do your stuff!

If Lincoln, splitting rails, had been afraid
To try his hand at greater things than that
He might have followed on where easy trails
Led into woodlands that were low and flat;
He could, perhaps, have earned his daily bread
And lived his life untroubled and unknown,
If, lacking heart to venture, he had said:
"The wise let well enough alone."

The man who putters, listless, through the days
Is like a lazy, winding rivulet
That finds an easy course, and calmly strays
Along until obstructions must be met.
Forced from its placid way, the stream may serve
A worthy purpose, otherwise denied,
And men, compelled from deep-worn ruts to swerve,
May cease to plod, and learn to guide.

It is no easy thing to leave behind
The habits that have claimed and cramped us long;
When changes must be made we are inclined
To be afraid the world is going wrong!
So, men who find themselves in ruts, too oft
Unduly fearful of steep ways and rough,
Drag slowly on, in mind and muscle soft—
Come out, young man, and do your stuff!

A Bit of Homely Philosophy

DON'T RAISE THE DEVIL. GET A HOBBY.

You feel at times that you would like to "raise the devil."

It seems to you that you have kept your natural tendency that way, under control about as long as possible for you.

You feel that if you could cut loose for a short time that you could settle down to your present routine and be happy.

In by gone days when this feeling came on you went, perhaps to the place where the swinging doors seemed to welcome you and, before you left and the spell was satisfied, you made a fool of yourself and you admitted it.

You were ashamed and resolved that never again would you do the same.

The fact that you were drunk might excuse some things with certain persons, but these same persons would not excuse you for the same things if done while sober.

What you need is a hobby of some kind.

You need something to draw you out of the rut and yet satisfy your craving for "something different."

Isn't there something you would like to do in your spare time, both profitable and pleasant to you?

America's Greatest Calendar Maker

BY GARRETT P. SERVISS.
Famous Astronomer and Writer on Scientific Topics of Popular Interest.

In all times the yearly excursions of the sun alternately into the northern and the southern hemisphere (an apparent movement due to the inclination of the earth's axis), have been observed and noted as seasonal guides.

Among all the early peoples there were astronomers who recorded the periodical motions of the sun and the other heavenly bodies and each of the great nations had a system of reckoning the recurrence of the seasons and the length of the year as measured in days. They all understood that the year is like a circle and that in order to measure its length or the circumference of the year, a fixed starting and-ending point must be chosen.

There are four such points available, either of which might be selected, according to circumstances. Two of these are the "equinoxes" and the other two are the "solstices." We are accustomed to begin with the vernal, or spring, equinox, which is the point, or instant, at which the sun crosses the equator coming out from the southern into the northern hemisphere. This occurs every year about the 20th of March.

Then comes the summer solstice, when the sun reaches its greatest declination, or highest point north of the equator, and this happens every year about June 21. Next follows the Autumn equinox, when the sun crosses the equator again, going back into the southern hemisphere, about September 22.

Finally comes the winter solstice, when the sun reaches its farthest southern declination about December 22. After that the sun mounts again towards the vernal equinox, on reaching which it completes the circle of the year.

Now a tough problem has always been how to measure the circumference of the year, using the days as units, or time, yardsticks. When nature sets the earth turning on its axis it did not take the trouble to make each daily turn an exact, or even, divisor of the year. If only it had done so, the calendar would have been a very simple instead of a very complicated thing.

Some of the best brains that the earth has produced have been employed on the problem of matching the days to the years, but the highest civilization, which we think is that of our own time, has been compelled to accept only a closely approximate solution.

We have figured out that there are in a natural year, 365.2421995 days Julius Caesar lumped the fraction as one-quarter, and to make things run easy called the length of every year just 365 days, except every fourth year, to which he gave an extra day to make up for the fractions left out. That was the best the world had done up to his time.

But Caesar's lumping of the fractions produced an irregularity which became painful as the centuries ran on, and science grew more ambitious, so that in the sixteenth century Pope Gregory felt compelled to order an improvement by arranging to drop out the extra day in century years that are not divisible by 400. Thus he brought the calendar into the shape which it still retains. But after all an error is left amounting to about one day in 3,323 years.

Now, according to the investigations of Herbert J. Spinden, of the Peabody museum, the great problem of the calendar was solved in Central America about 2500 years ago with an accuracy exceeding that of any of the approximations that have elsewhere been put into practical use. The gist of the problem is to keep the equinocial and solsitial points in unvarying relations to the seasons, as recorded in the calendar.

The unknown astronomical genius among the ancient Mayas who achieved this better than any of the most famous calendar reformers of Europe and Asia, adopted the simple expedient of keeping a straight day-by-day account of the lapse of time, and then instead of introducing leap-years to complicate the reckoning, making marginal corrections by means of which the variations arising from the fractional day could be disposed of.

He seems to have ascertained the amount of the fraction in question to a high degree of exactness, and there is evidence that he spent a life-time's labor of 33 years in obtaining by astronomical observations the necessary data.

In 580 B. C., the Mayan new year's day, fell on the Winter solstice, which affords a connection with the Gregorian calendar, and Mr. Spinden shows that there is but one day's difference between the two calendars in reckoning backward to 3373 B. C., and that the error lies on us and not on the Mayan.

Native Sons and Daughters.

LINCOLN, Neb., Jan. 30.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: The preliminary organization of "Native Sons and Daughters of Nebraska" was effected at the luncheon sponsored in their honor by the Nebraska State Historical society at its annual meeting. The gathering was enthusiastic both in numbers and in spirit. The idea of such an organization has been considered for several years and held in abeyance awaiting the return of more nearly normal conditions in our country before launching. The movement is proving popular and letters of enrollment and suggestions of some of the fine things the new organization should do for Nebraska are coming in every day from different quarters of the state. Among these suggestions are: The development of a statewide Nebraska spirit; a just pride in and publicity for Nebraska as a whole; recognition of her great part in the history of the nation and especially of the west; helping to preserve records of the same; making known her wonderful resources; and establishing her leadership in the great development of the near future. The Nebraska Territorial Pioneers at their annual meeting January 23 expressed their hearty approval of the new organization and their desire to cooperate with it.

The Native Sons and Daughters of Nebraska idea offers the most practicable means of unifying all the elements in our state for a program of Nebraska progress. No matter in what foreign country or American state Nebraska parents have been born, their children have a common nativity and interest.

All native Nebraskans, from the children of the earliest settlers of the 50s and 60s to those of the latest decade, are welcomed to this new organization and are needed in it. Enrollment already made includes a large group of those whose parents came to Nebraska in the 50s and 60s. This organization of native sons and daughters is in close cooperation with the Nebraska State Historical society in all work relating to the gathering and preservation of Nebraska history.

Announcement will be made in the state press of a meeting to perfect plans and permanent organization as ordered at the January 16 meeting. In the meantime enrollment and suggestion from native born sons and daughters of Nebraska should be promptly addressed to the secretary of the preliminary organization.

MARGARET E. T. SHELDON.

An Appreciation.

HAVELOCK, Neb., Jan. 30.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: I have especially enjoyed the articles in The Sunday Star, which have been giving such splendid credit to the teachers who have been in this service a great length of time. I think much credit is due your paper for giving space for such individuals who so often gain so little recognition. There is no more splendid womanhood illustrated in any vocation than is exemplified by some of the older members of the teaching profession.

Thanking you again for the splendid service you are doing.

The Welfare Society.

LINCOLN, Neb., Jan. 30.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: I am taking the liberty of writing you a few lines in regard to the Welfare society. It seems funny to me that people will support such an organization. It was not so long ago, only last summer in fact, during the Community Chest drive in which I contributed $10 myself. I made a mistake. You may ask why?

I am down and out and my wife called up the secretary and told him of our circumstances. He sent one of his representatives here to inquire and see for himself. He must think it is a matter of pleasure when people must humiliate themselves by asking for help. He sent us a peck of spoiled potatoes, 25 cents worth of sugar, 5 cents worth of matches, one pound of lard and two loaves of bread. That was for a family of ten.

This is the society which gets such wonderful help in our newspapers for the wonderful work it is doing in Lincoln, and which is now trying to drive the Salvation army out of the city.

I am sorry my wife called him up but I think the people of Lincoln should know who does good work for the poor, and my appeal is for support for the Salvation army.

I met with an accident which has temporarily laid me up but I will win in spite of the misfortune.

P. G. V.

Editorial Note: The visit which the writer speaks of is a customary investigation made of each solicitation for assistance by the Welfare society. While an investigation of each case may work a hardship in some, and unnecessarily subject families to humiliation, welfare workers claim such action is necessary to intelligently handle the work.

Not a Spiritualist.

OMAHA, Neb., Jan. 30.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: My attention has been called to an article published in your issue of Nov. 26, 1923, entitled "The Manse of Spooks'." The article gives a detailed description of "the world's largest and strangest private residence," whose builder and owner was one Sarah L. Winchester, a woman of great wealth, and a noted spiritualist. It is related that Mrs. Winchester resided in this strange mansion near San Jose, California, for thirty-eight years, and continued to add to and remodel it until her death, which occurred a few months ago.

It is further stated that "the sumptuous entrance hall was used only three times, when Mrs. Mary Baker Eddy came and left, and when the body of Mrs. Winchester was taken out."

This statement may convey the impression that Mrs. Eddy, the discoverer and founder of Christian Science, was a spiritualist or in sympathy with spiritualism, and may have been in the habit of visiting with the leaders of this cult. Mrs. Eddy never visited San Jose, and was never in California. Moreover, she did not believe in spiritualism. In Science and Health With Key to The Scriptures, the text-book of Christian Science, Mrs. Eddy has devoted an entire chapter to the subject of "Christian Science versus Spiritualism," wherein the difference is clearly defined.

On page 80, she writes: "I entertain no doubt of the humanity and philanthropy of many spiritualists, but I cannot coincide with their views. It is mysticism which gives spiritualism its force." And on the following page, she further states: "If spiritualists understood the Science of being, their belief in mediumship would vanish."

This is not written in a spirit of controversy, nor to find fault with spiritualism, but to avoid the impression that it teaches anything in common with Christian Science as revealed by Mrs. Eddy.

NO REFERENDUM ON PROHIBITION

Avery Says Such Vote In Nebraska University Is Absurd.

Regents Urge Rigorous Enforcement Of the Volstead Act.

Chancellor Samuel Avery of the state university issued a statement Wednesday to the effect that no referendum on prohibition such as held in some eastern schools could be taken in the Nebraska schoo.

His statement follows:

"The regents, who constitute supreme authority under the state constitution and laws, have decided in favor of more rigorous enforcement of the prohibition amendment and the Volstead act to make prohibition an actuality.

"Furthermore, the regents have recently specifically directed the executive officers of the university to co-operate with the federal, state and city law enforcement officers, and with the moral forces of the city, in vigorous enforcement of the prohibition amendment and the Volstead act so far as the university is concerned.

"Though it is my belief that a referendum on the question would be overwhelmingly in the affirmative, the university cannot with propriety permit a referendum to be taken involving a subject on which its own governing board has spoken definitely and authoritatively.

"It is possible that some other schools have permitted a referendum among their students as to whether or not they favor upholding the constitution of the United States and the enforcement of law. Such a proposal, however, in the University of Nebraska is preposterous."

BRICTSON GIVES UP STATE FIGHT

Lawyers Walk Out Of District Court Room In Omaha.

Attorney General Wins Suit to Revoke Charter Of Company.

OMAHA, Neb., Jan. 30.—Attorneys Frank L. Weaver and William L. Giller quit Judge Fitzgerald's courtroom Tuesday and announced their intention of letting go uncontested the suit in quo warranto of T. J. McGuire, assistant attorney general, against the Brieston Manufacturing company, when they were unable to gain a continuance of the case.

By the attorney general's suit, the charter under which the company sold approximately $300,000 worth of stock in Nebraska will be revoked; the company will be permitted to do no further business in Nebraska as a corporation and the remainder of the company's assets, valued at approximately $129,000, will be held in trust by the state for the benefit of company stockholders.

McGuire in his statement argued that the Brictson company was a "fictitious enterprise" and "dominated by one man who did not put a cent into the company treasury—O. A. Brictson."

"Yet," continued McGuire, "our testimony will show that in four years and seven months he drew for himself and wife by way of salaries and rent on practically worthless properties the following amounts:

"1917, $5,500; 1918, $10,000; 1919, $10,500; 1920, $21,991 and 1921, $7,757. And in addition he drew $21,000 in alleged dividends on stock issued to himself without consideration."

McGuire said the old state railway commission was induced to issue Brictson and his associates a permit to sell $500,000 worth of stock in Nebraska on their representation that they owned a factory in Brookings, S. D., which, at the time was manufacturing the only tire of its kind in the world.

"These representations, made under oath, were false as we will prove by our witnesses," continued McGuire.

Baker's application, together with a recommendation by Captain Anderson, was sent to Adjutant General Paul, who secured the appointment.

Winter Wheat Made Good Growth During Month of December

Weather conditions were favorable to growing wheat during the most of December, says the monthly summary of weather conditions for Nebraska, just issued by the United States department of agriculture. "The month was exceedingly favorable for work; corn husking progressed well and was mostly finished in the eastern counties by January 1; and in the western counties there was considerable corn yet to husk after the beginning of the new year," the report said. "Winter wheat was growing most of the month and was generally in good condition," it continued.

The last few days of the month saw the only real cold weather of the month, the coldest temperatures for the period being recorded on December 30 and 31. During the rest of the month the weather was mild, pleasant and dry, with a deficiency of wind velocity, sunshine and humidity, and a cloudiness near normal. Live stock continued in good condition throughout the period.

The monthly mean temperature as shown by reports from eighty-four stations was 31.2 degrees, which was 5.2 degrees above the average for the past forty-eight years. The maximum temperatures were generally above 60 degrees. The lowest temperature recorded during the month was 5 to 10 below zero in the southeastern counties and 20 to 30 below zero in the western part of the state on December 31.

RELATIONS WITH GREECE RESUMED

Restoration By United States Follows Lapse Since 1920.

(Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 30.—Diplomatic relations between the United States and Greece have been resumed after a lapse since 1920, when Constantine re-ascended the throne vacated by the death of Alexander and established a regime regarded by the American government as being based upon military power without confirmation by elections.

Recent elections in Greece have resulted in the establishment of a government whose credentials are acceptable to the United States.

Secretary Hughes yesterday received M. Tsamados, Greek representative in Washington, as charge d'affaires and instructed Ray Atherton ,who has been unofficially in charge of American affairs at Athens to act as charge d'affaires ad interim, to the Greek government.

It is expected that the accrediting of a minister will await decision by Greece of the constitutional question under consideration in Athens.

Newspapers Now Handle Same As First Class Mail

WASHINGTON, Jan. 30.—Beginning Friday, newspapers will be accorded the same treatment in the mails as letters ad other first class matter by an order made public today by Postmaster General New.

"The order," said Mr. New," means much to the American public. It is one of the most important and far reaching steps in postoffice history. It is for the benefit of those who desire to have their newspapers placed before them at as early a moment as possible. This should keep both the city and rural population in closer and quicker touch with their several fields of activities."

Under the new system newspapers will be made up in separate sacks plainly labeled with the word "newspapers."

more Ford cars and trucks were produced last year than the previous year, an increase of over 50 per cent.

In spite of this tremendous increase in production, it was impossible to meet delivery requirements during the spring and summer months when orders for 350,000 Ford Cars and Trucks could not be filled.

This year winter buying for immediate delivery has been more active than ever before—and in addition 200,000 orders have already been booked through the Ford Weekly Purchase Plan for spring delivery.

These facts clearly indicate that the demand during this spring and summer will be far greater than ever, and that orders should be placed immediately with Ford Dealers as a means of protection against delay in securing your Ford Car or Truck or Fordson Tractor.

Tearney Comes To Confer With Lincoln's Fans

Al R. Tearney, president of the Western league, and prominent baseball boosters of Lincoln were in conference today at the Chamber of Commerce on the subject of reviving Western league ball in Nebraska's capital city.

The head of the Western loop arrived late in the forenoon from his Chicago headquarters and was accompanied by Howard Wakefield, Chicago business man and former player with the Pittsburgh National league team, who is reputed to stand ready in the event of local co-operation, to purchase the Sioux City franchise from the league and transfer the club to this city.

Lee Keyser, president of the Des Moines club, and James Crawford, Tulsa, Okla., magnate, also were members of the Tearney party. Mr. Crawford arrived early Wednesday evening.

The Western leaguers were guests of the Chamber of Commerce at the noon luncheon. They may continue their stay a day of so in event the response by the business interests and fans justifies the belief that Lincoln is taking a serious interest and entertains a genuine wish to co-operate with Mr. Wakefield in placing a club in this city.

"Buck" Beltzer, head of Lincoln's State league club and part owner of Landis Field, indicated today that it would be necessary for Lincoln to make a prompt answer to the Western league visitors.

"The Western league project has been hanging fire for a month or more, but we don't seem to be getting anywhere," Beltzer said. "We have held off taking part in reorganization of the State league and also given no definite reply to the proposed Tri-State league, although invited to enter the latter organization. Our park is for sale to the Western league or the fans of Lincoln, and we would be willing to rent, under certain conditions. However, we prefer to sell and get the money involved to working in another investment.

"The suggestion that the price we have fixed on the park, $20,000, would net us a big profit is altogether wrong. The owners of Landis Field invite interested fans to inspect our books and cancelled checks for money spent in building and improving the park during the past two years. Our books and accounts are open to inspection by any individual fan or by a committee representing the fans. We are not trying to put over anything on Lincoln or the Western league. I am standing pat on the statement that the $20,000 price would not any more than let us out on an even basis and if anybody wants to be shown, our books, accounts and cancelled checks are open to investigation and inspection."

Bloomington Wins Tight Victory In Game at McCook Hi

(Special to The Star.)

BLOOMINGTON, Neb., Jan. 30.—The Bloomington high quintet took a road trip west last week-end, playing the Beaver City Legion Thursday and the McCook five Friday.

At Beaver City, the Bloomington cagers led at the close of the first quarter, 10 to 7. Beaver City then shifted its lineup and captured the heavy end of a 36 to 25 score.

The next night McCook high started the scoring and rang up ten points before Bloomington got to going. Bloomington rallied and came back strong, winning by a 30 to 27 count. Blaney of McCook showed brilliant work, shooting five baskets from past the center of the floor. Summary:

UNCLE SAM'S BEST IN MILLROSE MEET

Cream of America's Athletes Bidding For Places On Olympic Team.

U. S. HOCKEY TEAM WINS.

CHAMONIX, France, Jan. 30.—(International News Service.)—The United States hockey team scored another decisive victory in the Olympic games today, defeating France, 22 to 0. The American players scored twelve goals in the first quarter, one in the second, and nine in the third.

NEW YORK, Jan. 30.—A majority of the candidates for the Olympic track and field team representing America will be seen in action tonight, the finale of the two-day meet of the Millrose Athletic association.

Among the notables who will appear are Joie Ray, Bob McAlester, Vernon Ascher, Deke Wolters, H. M. Fitch, Jake Driscoll, Dick Landon, Hal Osborne, Leroy Brown, Loren Murchison, Boots Lever, Allen Helffrich, Wanzer, Ralph Hills, Pat McDonald, Tom Campbell, Jimmy Connolly, Ray Bucker and R. E. Brown.

The games will mark an attempt on the part of Ray to come back after an indifferent showing in early season races. Joie will face a great field in the special mile and a half race and may go after the three-quarters event also.

Yanks Not In Skii Race.

CHAMONIX, France, Jan. 30.—America's representatives in the Olympic skii events have withdrawn from the fifty-kilometre race, scheduled for today, owing to lack of training and preparation for such a test. They declared that they were saving themselves for the skii jumping events, in which they believed they had better chances of success.

"We are essentially jumpers," declared Anders Haugen, captain of the American team, in commenting on the withdrawal. "It would be foolhardy to attempt a long race in view of the fact that we have put on skiis only once this year."

The Americans were united today in declaring the Chamonix skii jump one of the most dangerous in existence. This statement was made after a Swedish jumper had sustained a broken arm in attempting a landing.

Another accident occurred in the practice for the bob-sled race, the French sled overturning while travelling at top speed. Captain Reanaud de la Fregoliere suffered a broken arm.

Canadians Win at Hockey.

In the hockey competition, the Canadians scored one of the most overwhelming victories of the early rounds in beating Switzerland, 33 to 0.

The English hockey team also scored an easy victory, in defeating Belgium, 20 to 3.

In Tuesday's hockey games, Canada outclassed Sweden, 22 to 0, and England defeated the French team, 15 to 2.

The women's fancy skating contest went to Mme. H. Szaboplank of Austria, with Miss Beatrix Loughran of New York second. Mrs. Theresa Wells Blanchard of Boston took fourth honors and Miss Ceustice Smith of Canada sixth.

Norwegian First In Race.

CHAMONIX, France, Jan. 30.—Thorlief Haug, Norwegian skiing star, won the skii marathon race in the Olympic winter sports today.

Thirty-four skii marathoners, representing France, Latvia, Finland, Norway, Sweden, Jugo-Slavia, Italy, Switzerland, Czecho-Slovakia, Poland and Hungary, engaged in a jaunt of fifty kilometers across the mountain passes and valleys.

Great Britain defeated France, 46 to 4, in the curling competition, thereby winning the Olympic championship. Sweden was second and France third.

Baseball Proves Its Value.

CHAMONIX, France, Jan. 30.—Baseball efficiency in the two men who so far have tended goal for the American Olympic hockey team has proved of great value in stopping the peculiarly twisting shots of the European forwards.

Both Alphonse A. Lacroix and John A. Langley, Bostonians, are proficient in smothering hot grounders on the diamond.

Hang, of Norway, won the fifty kilometre skii race during the Olympic program today. The winner's time was 3 hours, 4 minutes and 2 seconds.

JACKSON SPURNED BLACK SOX MONEY

JACKSON AGAIN ON STAND.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Jan. 30—Joe Jackson, former White Sox player, will resume the stand this morning in his suit against Charles A Comiskey, owner of the Chicago American league team, for back pay.

(Associated Press.)

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Jan. 30.—The conduct of Joe Jackson, former White Sox baseball player, on the diamond during the Chicago-Cincinnati 1919 world's series was that of a player doing his best for his club, according to the testimony of press witnesses who attended the game of the world's series, in the suit of Jackson against the Chicago club to collect $18,500 under an unexpired contract.

The witnesses, one of them a sports editor for a news gathering agency, testified among other things that Jackson not only batted higher than any man in the series, but brought and drove in more runs than any other two players; that his fielding average was 1.000; that he accepted more chances than any other outfielder in the series, and got more bases on balls than any other player. The witnesses said, in effect, that Jackson's conduct was more meritorious than any other player on the Chicago team.

Denies He Was In Plot.

Submission of this testimony was intended to bear out a plan of the plaintiff in the case to show by inference that his conduct in the series indicated he had nothing to do with the "throwing" of the series, as is his claim. It was because of the expose of the "baseball scandal of 1919" that Jackson's contract was rescinded and he was released under a "ten-day notice clause," now said by Jackson to have been inserted in the contract without his knowledge or consent.

Jackson went on the stand late yesterday. He testified that "Lefty" Williams, a teammate, came to him after the world's series, and threw an envelope containing $5,000 at his feet as Jacksons share of the world's series spoils.

Tried to Tell Comiskey.

Jackson said he became angry and demanded of Williams what he meant. Williams, according to Jackson's testimony, replied that the name of Jackson was used in dealing with the "gambling crowd that had figured in the throwing of the series."

At this Jackson said he became angrier than ever and threatened to go to Charles Comiskey, owner of the White Sox, with the whole story.

The next day, according to Jackson he did seek out Comiskey, but was told by Harry Grabiner, secretary of the club, that "the old man was not feeling good and that he (Jackson) had better write Comiskey his business after he got home." Later, Jackson testified, Comiskey wrote him asking that he advise him by letter about the matter Jackson had in mind.

Ray Cannon, attorney for Jackson, in his opening address declared that the trial would have sensational disclosures. He asserted evidence would be submitted in substantiation of the charge that Comiskey and his associates knew within three days following the 1919 series that the games were "thrown" to Cincinnati.

NEBRASKA TRACK PROSPECTS GOOD

Fifteen Letter Men Respond to Call of Coach Schulte For Early Training.

Freshmen Squad of 1923 Shows Considerable Promise This Winter.

BY GREGG McBRIDE.

Ask Henry F. Schulte, head track coach at the University of Nebraska, if he will have a winning track team at the Cornhusker institution next spring and the big "Indian" will merely smile and reply, "We'll have so many men out that we can't help having a winner."

A squad of more than one hundred is daily going through the training paces on the indoor track beneath the east stands of the Memorial stadium and when the spring weather permits outdoor workouts, Schulte expects to have five hundred or more athletes out fighting for places on the Nebraska varsity.

The veteran coach has brought three Missouri Valley track championships to Nebraska university, and achieved the trio of triumphs in succession, thereby gaining for Nebraska permanent possession of a Missouri Valley track cup.

New Men Show Promise.

While not overly optimistic Schulte is certainly not down-hearted over the prospects for the coming season. Fifteen letter men have responded to the call for track material and a squad of last year's yearlings shows real promise.

Letter men back this year are Captain "Mud" Gardner, Layton, Higgins, Lukens, Weir, Slemmons, Cohen, Crites, Hartman, Parks, Myers, Turner, Hatch, Gleason and Brown.

Coach Schulte must develop some new men for the sprints. Lukens, who is enrolled in the college of medicine at Omaha, is the only letter man back. Lukens was a member of the Husker relay team that was a consistent winner two years ago. Youngsters showing promise are Heln, Locke and Bloodgood. Locke won the 100-yard and 220-yards events in the Missouri Valley Freshman telegraphic last year while Heln was second in each event.

"Red" Layton, former Gothenburg high athlete, is the lone veteran in the quarter mile. Other promising 440-yard men include Whipperman, Bloodgood, Scherick, Crites and Fairchild.

Gardner in Half Mile.

Captain "Mud" Gardner and Higgins are the veteran half-milers. In the distance events the letter men are Cohen, Slemmons and Bob Weir. New men showing promise are Zimmerman, captain-elect of the cross country team; Haskell, Schultz, Dickson, Heyde and Wight.

"King" Lear, Omaha medic, is the veteran high hurdler. New men who will give Lear a battle include Ed Weir, former high school pentathlon champion and university football captain-elect. Rhodes, varsity football end and holder of high school records in the jumps; Beerkle, who will be a member of the squad as soon as basketball season closes; and Reese.

Crites, who holds the varsity record, will lead the low hurdlers.

Hartman and Parks, letter men, look like the best bet in the shot-put while Myers, veteran, will lead the discus event with Popelar, Pospisil and Ogden showing promise.

Hobb Turner, whose varsity record of 6 feet 1 3-8 inches still stands good, is the letter man back for the high jump. Rhodes and Drishaus also look good.

In the broad jump, Hatch is the veteran in suit. Weir, Rhodes and Bloodgood, new timber, have been doing better that 21 feet 6 inches. Gleason and Brown are the veteran pole vaulters with Davis, Rhodes, Wirsig, Popelar and H. Gish looking good.

Last Night's Fights.

At Albany—Al Wise, Syracuse, and Frankie Laureate, Troy, fought ten rounds to a draw. Joe Sobie, Albany, was awarded decision over Joe Weiner, New York, ten rounds.

At New York—Bobby Wolgast, Philadelphia, and Terry Martin, Providence, fought a draw, twelve rounds.

At Atlanta, Ga.—"Young" Stribling, Macon, Ga., light-heavyweight, outpointed Billy Shade of New York in a ten-round bout. The contest was marked by continual clinching. During the early part of the fight Stribling cut Shade's mouth and repeatedly kept the blood flowing during the ten rounds. Both fighters finished strong.

LESS STOCK ON NEBRASKA FARMS

All Classes Except Milk Cows Lower In Value Than In January 1923.

Less livestock on Nebraska farms and lower values therefore are shown in the annual January report of the United States bureau of crops and livestock estimates which was made public by A. E. Anderson, head of the bureau, Wednesday. The report states that there are less horses, hogs and sheep, more milk cows and other cattle, but no change in the number of mules.

"Each class of livestock," the report continued "has a lower average value and also a lower total value, except milk cows. All livestock is valued at $229,375,000, against $248,485,000 a year ago Total number of all classes was 10,194,000 head, compared to 10,384,000."

The report follows in part:

"There were 883,000 horses on farms as compared with 901,000 a year ago. There has been a decline of nearly 8 per cent since 1920. The average value is $55 per head, as compared with $58 a year ago, is the lowest since 1920. The total value is $48,565,000 as compared with $52,258,000 a year ago.

"Mules totaled 114,000 head, the same value as last year This is an increase of 14 per cent since 1920 The average value was $69 per head, $1 per head less than last year. The total value is $7,866,000 as compared with $7,980,000 a year ago

"Milk cows showed a substantial increase with 587,000 head as against 570,000 a year ago, and a gain of over 17 per cent since 1921. Milk cows had reached the lowest number in 1921 for more than a decade, but the depressed prices of grain and hay have stimulated a marked increase since then. Average value is $65 per head, against $57 a year ago. Total value, however, shows a little gain, being $32,872,000 against $32,400,000 a year ago.

"Numbers of other cattle are slightly greater than a year ago being 2,727,000 head as compared to 2,700,000 a year ago. A gain was noted since 1921 due to increased feeding, although breeding stock has increased too. Average value was $30 30 per head against $31.80 per head a year ago Total value was $82,628,000 as compared to $85,860,000 a year ago

"Hogs decreased from the record-breaking number of 5,330,000 head a year ago to 5,223,000 on January 1 The last spring crop of pigs showed a gain, but this is offset by a decreased fall crop, and heavier losses than a year ago. The average value was $10 compared with $12 a year ago. The total value was $52,230,000 as compared with $63,960,000 a year ago

"Sheep decrease from 733,000 head to 660,000 head. The great bulk of this number is in feed lots, the native sheep comprising a small percentage of the total The average value per head was $7.90 as compared with $8.10 year ago The total value was $5,214,000 against $5,937,000 a year ago."

Continued Heavy Receipts of Hay Send Price Down

Continued weakness is reported by the United States department of agriculture in its hay market report for the week of January 21 to 26, made public today. Lage receipts in practically all markets of the country,the report says, caused prices to weaken during the latter part of the week. The demand continued good for the better grades of hay, it continues, but the lower grades were more difficult to move.

"While the demand was good," says the report. "it was not equal to the supply, which continued to increase."

The report follows in part:

"The Boston market continued overstocked with medium and poor grades of hay which were difficult to move. Majority of receipts were still from Maine and Canada

"Lower quotations increased the shipping orders at Cincinnati. Most of the low grade hay at this market was left on dealers' hands and could not be sold ecept at heavy discounts.

"The demand for alfalfa at Kansas City continued good during the week. Dairymen were good buyers of choice grades while the alfalfa mills absorbed a good percentage of the ordinary grades Fairly large amounts of alfalfa moved to this market from Nevada, Idaho and Wyoming This hay carries a rebilling privilege and commands a premium, but many states have restricted importation of this hay because it comes fom the territory infested with the alfalfa wevil

"Feeders were good buyers of prairie hay during the week under review. Stock yards at Kansas City were not active buyers and trading was slowed up at that market The receipts of prarie hay at Minneapolis exceeded the demand and all grades sold slowly."

Cough Scared Him Into Going West

On the way, he found Milks Emulsion, also his health.

"A couple of years ago, I came under the Government's care, being a disabled soldier, and I reckon I have taken pretty near all the medicine that there is on the market Finally the examining physician of my district told me I wouldn't live six months if I stayed in Maine. So I got scared and started west to find a dry climate, but as far west as I got was Indianapolis and Milks Emulsion

"I gained 14 pounds on the first four bottles of your Emulsion I do not give Indiana any credit for this because it is as damp there as it is in Maine, but I do give Milks Emulsion the credit for saving my life In addition to building up my flesh and strength it soon relieved the serious cough that I had, and I improved so fast that it was not long until I was able to return home.

"Now I am feeling fine. I feed Milks Emulsion to both my babies and they are as fat as little pigs"—T. Edgar Dighton, 20 Pine St., Portland, Me.

Don't wait until your weakened condition gives you cause to despair. Start now building up strength and flesh, and give nature a chance to fight off disease. Milks Emulsion costs nothing to try.

Milks Emulsion restores healthy, natural bowel action, it is a truly corrective medicine, doing away with alll need of pills and physics It promotes appetite and quickly puts the digestive organs in shape to assimilate food, and thus build flesh and strength Milks Emulsion is strongly recommended to those whom sickness has weakened, it is a powerful aid in resisting and repairing the effects of wasting diseases Chronic stomach trouble is promptly relieved.

This is the only solid emulsion made, and so palatable that it is eaten with spoon like ice cream.

No matter how severe your case, you are urged to try Milks Emulsion under this guarantee—Take six bottles home with you, use it according to directions and if not satisfied with the results, your money will be promptly refunded. Price 60c and $1 20 per bottle The Milks Emulsion Co, Terre Haute, Ind., Sold by druggists everywhere. — Advertisement.

Could Not Sleep-- Doctor Says Operate

Gas On Stomach Prevents Sleep

"Before I began to take Adlerika intestinal antiseptic) I coud not sleep well, especially on my left side and had pains all through my stomach (gas). The doctor said it would be best for me to be operated. Thanks to Adlerika I'm on my feet again" (Signed) Samuel Payne

Intestinal Antiseptic.

There is now offered to the public a preparation having the DOUBLE action of an intestinal antiseptic and a COMPLETE system cleanser. This preparation, known as Adlerika, acts as follows:

It tends to eliminate or destroy harmful germs and colon bacilli in the intestinal canal, thus guarding against appendicitis and other diseases having their start here.

It is the most complete system cleanser ever offered to the public acting on BOTH upper and lower bowel and removing foul matter which poisoned the system for months and which nothing else can dislodge It brings out al cases thus immediately relieving pressure on the heart It is astonishing the great amount of poisonous matter Adlerika draws from the alimentary canal—matter you never thought was in your system Try it richt after a natural movement and notice how much more foul matter it brings out which was poisoning you In slight disorders, such as occasional constipation, sour stomach, gas on the stomach and sick headache, one spoonful Adlerika ALWAYS brings relief A longer treatment however, is necessary in cases of obstinate constipation ad long standing stomach troule preferably under direction of your physician

Reports From Physicians.

NEW YORK STOCK MARKET

NEW YORK Jan 30

The declaration of an extra 50c dividend and the large quarterly earnings of the U S Steel Corporation restored the vitality to the bull movement at the outset today but the extreme advances in many instances were considerably reduced or cancelled altogether later when extensive realizing commenced and several specialties developed no pronounced weakness Sales approximated 1 200 000 shares

Stock prices bounded upward at the opening of today s stock market in response to the declaration of an extra dividend of 50c on United States Steel common after the close of yesterday s market

The initial burst of buying embraced virtually all sections of the industrial lists Gains of 1 to 7 points being quite common American Can and Southern Railway established record highs for all time at 170¼ and 44½ respectively American Woolen however was weak throughout dropping more than a point Foreign exchanges opened steady

The disorder into which the market was thrown and the initial burst of buying and subsequent wave of profit taking was followed by a relatively steady upward movement of prices but except in a few cases the higher figures of the first few minutes were not touched again before noon United States Steel climbed to 10 the highest price since last April Seasoned dividend paying rails were in good demand

Call money opened at 4½ per cent Merchandise and oil shares showed the most consistent strength in the afternoon the remainder of the list to a large extent reflecting extensive realizing and bear selling in spots

The close was irregular

Late operations were considerably mixed United States Industrial Alcohol gaining 4 points while General Electric Corn Products National Lead and United Fruit were depressed 2 to 5½ points

GRAIN MARKETS

CHICAGO Ill Jan 30

CORN—Fresh strength in the corn market developed today soon after the opening Initial prices were weak on account of rather general selling but country offerings to Chicago were practically nil and numerous commission houses turned buyers The fact that oats this morning started at equal to the top price record of the season counted as a bullish influence on corn and so likewise did New York stock market strength Corn opening prices which varied from unchanged figures to ¾c lower May 80¾@80½c were followed by a moderate general rally and then by a rise all around to above yesterday s finish

Trading rapidly veered largely to wheat and oats today and those two cereals advanced whereas corn eventually lost ground both in price and in volume of business Country offerings of corn were said to show an increase Corn closed weak ½@¾c net lower May 79¼@79⅝

WHEAT—More interest was taken in wheat today than has recently been the rule There was considerable speculative buying based chiefly on smallness of receipts and on possibilities of crop damage After opening unchanged to ⅝c higher May $1 09 @1 09¼ July $1 08 @1 08¼ the market scored slight further gains

Sentiment appeared to have become quite bullish in many quarters and with offerings readily absorbed the market advanced to the best figures in several weeks The close was unsettled ⅝@1¼ @1¼c net higher May $1 10⅜@1 10¾ and July $1 08⅝@1 09

OATS—Oats started at a shade off to ⅛c advance May 48¼@48¾ and despite much profit taking held near to the initial range

PROVISIONS—Lower quotations on hogs eased the provision market

NEW YORK Jan 30

Baseball fans and businessmen of Lincoln must pitch a quick rep over the middle of the plate if the Western league is to transfer the Sioux City club to the capital city of Nebraska.

League President A R Tearney of Chicago an dthree of the league s club owners—James Crawford of Tulsa Lee Keyser of Des Moines and Warren Giles of St Joseph—came to Lincoln Wednesday and gave fan notice to capital city baseball boosters that the league must have speedy action otherwise the Tearney loop will be compelled to look elsewhere for an eighth member of the circuit

The league s representatives were guests of the Lincoln Chamber of Commerce at the noon luncheon Mayor Frank C Zehrung former president of the Western league presided over a special meeting of Commerce Chamber members, following the luncheon welcoming the baseball magnates to Lincoln and proclaiming that the capital city in his judgment could not well afford to let the opportunity slip to return to membership in the Western loop

R M Joyce Urges Action

President Tearney was introduced, following which Robert M Joyce former Chamber of Commerce president urged Lincoln business interests to get behind the baseball movement and stay behind until a league team had been clinched

Homer Wakefield former major league ball player who stands ready to take over active ownership and management of a Lincoln club placing a team in the Western league race accompanied the league representatives and was introduced to members of the Chamber of Commerce

A delegation of local boosters and League President Tearney and his associates subsequently went into conference for a discussion of the local problem Buck Beltzer one of the owners of Landis Field informed the meeting that he and his associates did not care to negotiate a lease of the local park but preferred to sell On that basis the boosters proceeded to organize for a final drive in forming a local association of 200 members to take over the park at the agreed price $20 000

Life Pass to Members

Under the plan adopted each shareholder will receive a $100 share of non assessable stock in the park and in addition a life pass to all Western league games in Lincoln The association in its deal with Mr Wakefield, is to give him free rent of the park but the club owner will be put under contract to pay ground rent taxes insurance and upkeep of the park

The boosters were in conference during the afternoon drafting a plan for an active drive to procure the required 200 park association members Announcement was made that the league must have Lincoln s definite reply by the end of the present week

ANNUAL WELFARE SOCIETY MEETING

The annual Social Welfare society dinner meeting held Tuesday evening at the Grand hotel was attended by one hundred and twenty-five members Chief business of the session was the fixing of the regular annual meeting date on the third Thursday in January to conform with the request of the Community Chest the establishment as members of the society—all contributors to the Community Chest who wish to be so the report of C E Prevey general secretary and the election of three new members of the board of directors

S R McKelvie Mrs W E Barkley and Rev J W Macdonald are the new directors chosen They take the places of Mrs Victor Krause who resigned Rev A P S Hyde removed from the city and Albert Watkins deceased

Mr Prevey presented his report in a brief written statement and gave a short talk on the trend of charity The report showed that from October 1 1922 to January 1 1924 549 resident cases were cared for and that the total number of applications for aid was 2 384 All applicants says the report were aided in some way Receipts from contributions were $6 484 39 from sale at the welfare industrial room $4 658 56 and from the community chest $819 11 Expenditures were For administration $4 346 28 and for relief $9,435 79

No Longer Clearing House

Mr Prevey said that the Social Welfare society has given up its work as a clearing house for all charitable work in the city to the Council for Social Agencies because charity work has become so specialized Family work or case work is the specialty of the society

Miss Mabel C Rickenbacher case worker explained the work she is doing

'DRY' LEADER IS DECLARED GUILTY BY GOTHAM JURY

Anti-Saloon League Officer Convicted After Long Court Fight.

To Be Sentenced February 8 For Alleged Third Degree Forgery.

(Associated Press)

NEW YORK Jan 30—Dry leaders today intimated that William H Anderson state superintendent of the anti-saloon league of New York convicted by a jury before Supreme Court Justice Tompkins last night of third degree forgery probably would appeal the verdict before February 8 the date set for pronouncement of sentence

Justice Tompkins announced Anderson would be sentenced on that date Bail of $5 000 in which he has been at liberty since the indictment was returned was continued

The jury deliberated one hour and forty minutes

The dry leader may be sentenced to prison terms of from two and one-half to five years for conviction under the third degree forgery charge

The verdict was not learned immediately by the expectant crowd that leaned forward in strained silence to catch the jury foreman s words His voice was so low that it was not heard at first

What is your verdict gentlemen? the clerk asked

The answer was not audible beyond the railing separating the bench jury and attorneys from the audience But Anderson standing behind his counsel seemed to interpret the words that held defeat for his long fight The crowds eyes were on the jury and they did not see Anderson

Do you find the defendant guilty as charged in the indictment? the clerk drawled

Again the answer was inaudible but the whole room now knew from the nature of the question that the dry crusader had been declared guilty on both counts of the indictment

Bitterly Denounced

Assitant District Attorney Pecora took three hours to sum up the testimony devoting the last half hour to a bitted denunciation of Anderson and several of the defense witnesses Just before he concluded Anderson seated behind his lawyers was seen to wipe his eyes from which tears were brimming

Mr Pecora characterized Anderson s commission split agreement with O Bertsall Philips former fund solicitor for the league as an unholy arrangement and declared that all the entries under discussion and the transactions concerning them reeked with dishonesty and criminality

He grew sarcastic in his reference to John I King vanished stranger who Anderson had testified made him a gift of $75 000 and Henry Mann the equally mysterious New York publicity man that the league head had declared had done publicity work for the organization and to whom he paid $24 700 of the sum given him by King

For the close of his address he intimated that the federal government might yet take steps on the income tax phase of the case

NORRIS SCORES OIL CONTRACTS

all the leases were based he said was to my mind utterly and absolutely illegal It was made in defiance of all laws bearing on that subject

Duty of Congress

I concede that men may honestly disagree as to the policy of keeping these oil reserves in the ground or in tank storage But there is no opportunity for disagreement upon the question that the policy in this respect is peculiarly with congress and that right or wrong it is the duty of every patriotic citizen to see that such policy is carried out It is especially the duty of high public officials

Pointing out that congress had not been asked to legislate authorizing the transfer Senator Norris declared it was because those interested knew that congress would not approve it

Violations of law as presented in the present instance Senator Norris declared eventually would lead to a rule by despots and tyrants

There could be no doubt he argued that the leases and contracts made by Secretary Fall after the ill legal transfer of jurisdiction to him were as devoid of legality as the original order of transfer

Referring to statements that the leases had been discussed by the cabinet Senator Norris said he often wondered if the illegality of the contemplated action had not been called to the attention of that body by the eminent secretary of state a lawyer of highest standing

I dont want to dwell upon this point he added because the evidence is not conclusive that the matters were taken before the cabinet

Senator Smoot republican Utah said Secretary Denby had testified that they were not considered at any cabinet meeting he attended

LIFE AND CHARACTER READING.

This is the date on which Aquarius, the Water Bearer, holds sway These people usually care too much for personal appearance and sometimes take great risks to procure for themselves the things they desire.

They often bury themselves by means of dogmatic materialism, and a routine of habit which leads to a gloomy and useless life

Uranus is the planet holding sway with Saturn, and these two influence the individual born on this date

These people must overcome their anxiety and work to advance.

Minerva's Mail

Take Your Troubles to Minerva

Scanty Clothing.

Dear Minerva: I am a fitter in a large department store here and I want to say that I cannot get over the shock it gives me when the young women (and some not so young either) came into the fitting rooms to try on a frock and reveal just how little they wear. They snatch at a button or snap or two and off drops the one piece dress, revealing underneath perhaps just a pair of Teddies or a narrow bandeau about the bust and step-ins. I don't know when I have seen a petticoat.

I suppose I am old-fashioned but I certainly think it is immoral to dress that way. The legs are bare from below the knee to far above, and the body very nearly bare the rest of the way. I think it is terrible. What do you think?

DRESSMAKER.

A. I think I would prefer the substitution of knickers with the closed knee to the open step-ins for the sake of modesty on windy days, also perhaps for shelter. But otherwise it doesn't seem to shock me greatly that modern young people wear so few clothes, so long as they are not immodestly flaunting themselves about.

Moreover we have mighty good authority for a theory that less and lighter clothing together with more physical activity and bigger appetites have made the girls of today larger and stronger than those of three decades ago. Dr. Cecilia Duel Mosher, medical adviser of women in Stanford university, is responsible for this statement.

She has analyzed the results of thousands of measurements made on women in three prominent colleges, Stanford, Vassar and Smith, and as a result, believes that the increase in height and weight are due largely to the exercises indulged in and the more hygienic clothing worn by modern women. A study of the physical activities at Vassar shows that during the years 1896 to 1900 more than a fourth of of the entering girls had engaged in no form of sport before entering college, where as from 1916 to 1920 only six-tenths of one per cent were so classified.

With increasing physical activity a change to lighter and looser clothing was made and fashion was forced to adapt itself to the introduction of the bicycle and the motor car and from there to golf, tennis, swimming, etc. She explains the increased height and weight by the argument that increased physical activity and lighter weight clothing cause increased appetite and permit better functioning of bodily organs.

So if scanty clothing is responsible for taller and more vigorous womanhood, let us not fret over seeming lack of modesty.

Don't "Play the Game."

Dear Minerva: I would be pleased if you could straighten out this argument. A friend of mine is married and has two children. Her husband is a traveling man and is away three to five months at a time. He sends his wife his pay check all the time.

Now Minerva is it a proper thing for this woman to go out with other men, that is while her husband is away? At present she is going out with a married man, separated from his wife, but not divorced. She goes out with this man several times a week and leaves her children home alone.

Once, while her husband was home, a man came to see her and she told her husband the man came to see her sister, which was not the truth. This sister is now angry at her because of her actions.

This woman is thirty-two years old and I think her old enough not to act like a fool. Her mother and father are also angry at her because of what she is doing. Is'nt she spoiling her reputation by running around with other men while married to another? It is true that her husband is no angel. But neither is mine. I'll write about myself some other time, but should she act that way?

If this letter isn't clear, let me know and I'll try to explain more thoroughly. Please answer soon as I would surely like to know if I am wrong. A LITTLE WOMAN.

A. It seems quite unnecessary to answer this letter, as any reader would know well what I would say. Everyone surely knows my opinion of people who don't "play the game."

The wife of the woman who "is no angel" and the husband with a wife "who chases around with other men" can take care of themselves. But if "A Little Woman" wrote this letter in good faith, let her go to the juvenile court and report the neglected children.

If the resentful sister and the woman's mother and father are interested in the only human side of the question, let them protect the children. If they won't, the law will. It will make that mother take proper care of her youngsters or else take them away from her.

I can shed no tears over cheaters. But I do say that it is an outrage that relatives and friends should see children left alone at night and neglected and do nothing about it.

News Briefs From the Entire World

WASHINGTON—Premier Venizelos of Greece and other officials have appealed for aid from the American public for Greek refugees from Asia Minor.

GENEVA—League of nations circles attach importance to a coming conversation between Sir Eric Drummond, league secretary and Ramsey Macdonald, British premier, because of its effect on extension of the league's activities as international machinery for co-operation and conciliation.

GENEVA—Miss Margaret Bondfield, parliamentary secretary to the British ministry of labor, last night attended the meeting of the governing board of the international labor bureau.

BUENOS AIRES—The Montevideo government has received an offer for a $20,000,000 loan from a New York syndicate through a Buenos Aires bank. The loan is repayable in two years at 6 per cent.

ALBANY, N. Y.—Charges that the New York City chamber of commerce and the merchants' association contributed $20,000 each to finances raised to fight the bonus measures before congress were made by John R. Quinn, national commander of the American Legion last night.

ATHENS—For the second time since his return to Greece, Premier Venizelos became ill yesterday during a heated debate in the national assembly and was obliged to leave the chamber. He was taken to his home.

WASHINGTON—Senator Couzens, republican, Michigan, issued a statement yesterday declaring that development in connection with naval reserves suggested that the time was opportune for legislation providing for appearance of cabinet officers before congress each week to obtain information on pending affairs.

MITCHEL FIELD, N. Y.—The Curtiss airplane CS-2 has been officially passed as fit to accompany the Shenandoah on its proposed North Pole flight.

WASHINGTON — A resolution which would direct the secretary of the interior to institute immediate suits to assert title to Sections 16 and 36 upon naval reserve No. 1 in California, which are now in possession of the Standard Oil company, was introduced yesterday by Senator Walsh, democrat, Montana.

Gendall Addresses Boy Scout Leaders

Gilbert Gendall, scout executive of Omaha, addressed fifty-five men Tuesday evening at the scout leadership course at the Temple building.

"Scouting is a doing program," Mr Gendall said, "Seven-tenths of what a boy does becomes a part of him. Scouting is fundamentally sound."

Character development and good citizenship are the two aims of scouting. Mr. Gendall gave the "three F's" of scouting—fun, fight and feed.

Dr. Miles Breuer of Lincoln gave a first aid demonstration.

WOMAN SICK TWO YEARS

Caused by Troubles Women Often Have—Relieved by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Medina, New York.—"I had a great deal of trouble such as women often have, and this affected my nerves. For over two years I suffered this way, then I read in the Buffalo Times' about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and have taken it with very good results. I am very much better and feel justified in praising the Vegetable Compound to my friends and neighbors who suffer from anything of the kind."—Mrs. WM. H. ADKINS, 311 Erin Road, Medina, N. Y.

Feels Like Girl Sixteen

Rochester, N. Y.—"After my twin girls were born I was all run-down. My neighbors thought I was going to die. I saw your advertisement in the paper and bought Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. The first bottle helped me and I kept on taking it. I only weighed ninety pounds when I began taking it, and I have gained in weight and feel like a girl of sixteen. I never can say enough for Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."—Mrs. NELLIE DOREY, 16 Skuse Park, Rochester, N. Y.

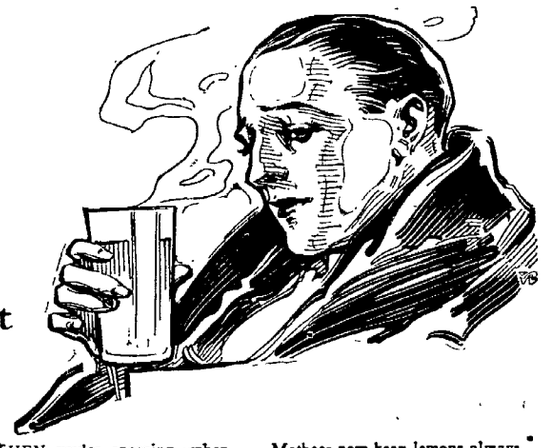
Check That Cold!

Stop it Tonight with Hot Lemonade



WHEN you're sneezing—when you're chilly—that's the time to stop a cold.

Take a good old-fashioned hot lemonade—as hot as you can stand it. Then a hot bath and go to bed, with plenty of warm covers. You will note the difference in the morning.

The effectiveness of hot lemonade in the prevention or treatment of a cold is due to more than its heat.

Thousands used this effective and easy method during the influenza epidemics. You, too, will profit by doing likewise if a cold impends.

Mothers now keep lemons always in the house for such emergencies. Children should have this healthful drink. If their feet are wet after playing outdoors give them a hot lemonade. It's good insurance against colds and more serious results.

It takes but a few minutes to prepare it, and the time to act is when you first suspect the cold. Do this tonight if you feel chilly.

California lemons make the best lemonade. They are practically seedless, tart and heavy with acid juice. Buy them at any first-class store. Try the "hot lemonade way" tonight.

Try making your hot lemonade this way and see how delicious the flavor is.

Hot Lemonade

Slice a whole California lemon crosswise into thin slices (including skin). Place slices in bowl and pour boiling water over them. Allow to stand a few minutes. Pour off lemonade. Cool by diluting only enough to permit drinking.

STOMACH UPSET?

Get at the Real Cause—Take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

That's what thousands of stomach suffers are doing now. Instead of taking tonics, or trying to patch up a poor digestion, they are attacking the real cause of the ailment—colgged liver and disordered bowels.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets arouse the liver in a soothing, healing way. When the liver and bowels are performing their natural functions, away goes indigestion and stomach troubles.

Have you a bad taste, coated tongue, poor appetite, a lazy, don't-care feeling, no ambition or energy, trouble with undigested foods? Take Olive Tablets the substitute for calomel.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a purely vegetable compound mixed with olive oil. You will know them by their olive color. They do the work without griping, cramps or pain.

Take one or two at bedtime for quick relief. Eat what you like. 15c and 30c.—Advertisement.

When You Catch Cold Rub on Musterole

Musterole is easy to apply and it gets in its good work right away. Often it prevents a cold from turning into "flu" or pneumonia. Just apply Musterole with the fingers. It does all the good work of grandmother's mustard plaster without the blister.

Musterole is a clean, white ointment, made of oil of mustard and other home simples. It is recommended by many doctors and nurses. Try Musterole for sore throat, cold on the chest, rheumatism, lumbago, pleurisy, stiff neck, bronchitis, asthma, neuralgia, congestion, pains and aches of the back and joints, frosted feet—colds of all chilblains, frosted feet—colds of all sorts.

To Mothers: Musterole is also made in milder form for babies and small children. Ask for Children's Musterole.
